

Brenda Hoffman ... 'I cried'

S-burg girls on hijacked jet

STROUDSBURG — "Hello, Grandma? I've just been hijacked!"

Unnerving? You bet. But that was the message phoned in by Jill Borheady of Stroudsburg, who was a bit unnerved herself when the plane on which she and another Stroudsburg girl, Brenda Hoffman, were passengers was commandeered by a hijacker who forced the plane down at Dulles International Airport in Washington, D.C. and demanded $300,000 ransom before allowing passengers to disembark.

When Jill, 18, and Brenda, 19, boarded the plane in Allentown, the girls sat near the rear of the plane. Minutes after takeoff, a man in the seat behind them commandeered the plane, claiming he had a pistol and explosives in his briefcase.

"We didn't know anything was wrong until the pilot made the announcement," Miss Hoffman said. "We turned around and saw a gun being held in this man's lap and it was pointed at a stewardess sitting across the aisle from him. He gave us a dirty look and pointed the gun at us."

"I started to cry and Jill told me 'don't worry. Everything will be all right.'"

"He didn't talk very good English," Miss Hoffman said. "He had a New York accent and talked very fast. The stewardess asked him if there was somebody with him and he said 'I can't tell you that.'"

It was Miss Hoffman's third time on an airplane and the first time she had been hijacked. The 18-year-old Stroudsburg resident was on her way to see her fiancé in the Navy in Miami.

Miss Hoffman worked in Devivo Quarissimo and Sons until Thursday. She was a cheerleader for Stroudsburg High School, graduating last year.

Walter Hoffman, her father, was driving a truck in the Allentown area when a fellow truck driver heard of the hijacking on the radio.

"While we were eating lunch he said 'I believe the plane your daughter is on was hijacked.' And it was the plane," Hoffman said.

"For a while I was running around like a chicken with its head cut off to find out if it was the plane. Then around 3:30 my boss called me on the truck radio and said my daughter was safe."

The two girls were among the 49 passengers allowed to leave the plane when it grounded in Dulles, Va. where the hijacker picked up supplies and about $300,000 in ransom money.

Hoffman was speechless when he learned the hijacker had pointed a gun at his daughter. She did not tell him of the incident when they finally made phone contact late in the afternoon.

Miss Borheady's mother, Mrs. Carol Mackin, said she learned of her daughter's experience when the girl's grandmother relayed a message about 3:15 p.m.

Mrs. Mackin said her daughter was moving to Florida. "I was real glad to hear she was safe."

Both girls will continue on their journey to Miami as soon as federal officials in Washington complete interviews aimed at identifying the hijacker.

Reds ready assault on Hue

SAIGON (UPI)—North Vietnamese troops attacked two government positions only seven miles from Hue Friday and were believed to be grouping for a major attack against the city, the country's third largest.

In neighboring Cambodia, Communists shelled downtown Phnom Penh and coordinated the barrage with a ground attack against a key bridge only one mile from the U.S. embassy. Rockets reportedly hit two American homes but there were no U.S. casualties reported.

The attack in Phnom Penh was the first Communist move against a major city in Southeast Asia since the Cambodian capital was shelled March 21, nine days before the current Communist offensive began in South Vietnam.

The March 21 attack against Phnom Penh killed 112 persons and wounded 223 others.

However, North Vietnamese troops are believed to be gathering for an attack against Hue, the former imperial capital and northernmost of South Vietnam's major cities.

North Vietnamese troops attacked two positions near artillery base Birmingham, five miles southwest of Hue. A military spokesman said 39 Communists and two South Vietnamese troops were killed and 11 government troops were wounded in two fights.

UPI correspondent Kate Webb reported from Phnom Penh that about 50 122mm rockets crashed into downtown Phnom Penh and into the city's airport on the outskirts.

Field reports from South Vietnam said the United States is now using helicopters equipped with new guided antitank missiles against Communist vehicles. An American military spokesman said the new weapons were needed to provide additional protection for U.S. troops.

She said 200-300 Communist troops attacked a bridge on Highway 1 linking Phnom Penh with Saigon. Communists already control more than 60 miles of the highway in Cambodia.

She said the Communists were believed to have been driven back by three battalions of government troops which were rushed to the area.

The bridge is only one mile from the U.S. embassy. U.S. Marines were called out to guard the structure but there was no attack against the building.

Reports said earlier that the U.S. command had brought in a new antitank weapon to try to stop the Communist offensive in South Vietnam.

At the same time, a team of five generals and admirals from Washington began touring the battle zones to see what other sophisticated weapons could be used to help turn back the North Vietnamese offensive, now in its fifth week.

The communist forces, which struck across the Demilitarized Zone and overran northernmost Quang Tri province.

Allentown jet hijacked

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—A cool, calculating gunman hijacked a plane from Pennsylvania Friday, demanded $300,000 in small bills and parachutes in return for 48 passengers and a shaken stewardess and ordered the crew to take him to New Orleans.

On the West Coast, a man vowing American skies will not be safe until U.S. troops are pulled out of Southeast Asia commandeered a smaller jetliner for Cuba.

FBI agents armed with high powered rifles followed the hijacked Eastern Airlines 727 from Dulles International Airport to New Orleans. But the pursuit plane remained circling the New Orleans airport while the jetliner was refueled.

"He has requested refueling," an Eastern spokesman said. "We are going to fuel the airplane. He wants the fuel and then leave as soon as possible."

But another spokesman said the plane developed "hydraulic problems" which prevented its leaving.

"This could mean either the brakes don't work or the landing gear won't go up," the spokesman said.

The hijacker made no demands when he got to New Orleans and gave no indication of where he wanted to be taken.

The young man who hijacked the Western Airlines plane over New Mexico, however, was very specific. He said he wanted to be taken to Hanoi but was told the plane did not have that kind of range.

He then demanded to be flown to Cuba. The plane left Los Angeles and planned refueling stops at Dallas and Tampa, Fla., en route to Havana.

Eleven passengers were allowed to get off the plane when it refueled at Los Angeles and then the short-haul jet took off into the dusk with 64 passengers and a crew of six still aboard. The plane's estimated arrival time at Dallas was

Jet crash in Italy kills 115

PALERMO, Sicily (UPI)—An Alitalia DC8 jetliner carrying 115 persons from Rome to Palermo crashed and burned on a mountainside Friday during a landing attempt. All aboard apparently perished.

A spokesman for the Italian airlines said the plane was carrying 108 passengers and a crew of seven. There were no indications if there were any Americans aboard.

Rescue parties rushed to Montagna Lunga (Long Mountain) 16 miles west of here reported finding a number of charred and mangled bodies. They said there were no immediate signs of survivors.

Residents from a nearby village attending a campaign rally in connection with Sunday's national elections said they saw a flash of light on the mountainside, followed moments later by the sound of an explosion.

The crash was located in the rugged area where the bandit king Salvatore Giuliano once used as a sanctuary. He was killed by one of his aides in 1950.

Rescuers said they had trouble reaching the site because of the terrain.

Red Cross ambulances, firemen and police rushed to the scene. Soldiers and volunteers also took part in the rescue attempt.

Red rockets slam capital

PHNOM PENH — At least 25 Russian-made 122 mm rockets crashed into the center of Phnom Penh early Saturday and Communist ground troops followed up with a ground attack against a key bridge at the Southern end of the city. The attack was the first Communist attack against a major metropolitan area in Southeast Asia since Phnom Penh was shelled earlier this year.

UMW boss faces indictment

WASHINGTON, Pa. — William J. Prater, a United Mine Workers (UMW) official, Friday was ordered held for grand jury action on three counts of murder in the 1969 Yablonski slayings. Prater, UMW field representative from LaFollette, Tenn., and the sixth person charged in the slayings, was bound over to the grand jury after a 90-minute preliminary hearing before Judge Thomas Gladden in Washington County Court.

Warrants out for Turner

ORLANDO, Fla. — Three arrest warrants were issued Friday for self-made multi-millionaire Glenn W. Turner who was indicted by a Duval County grand jury for allegedly violating state lottery laws in sales promotions, Orange County Sheriff Mel Colman said. Colman said Turner, whose cosmetics firms have netted him a fortune in the past few years, was on the West Coast but that his attorney, James Russ, said he would surrender himself Monday.

FTC orders ad corrected

WASHINGTON — The Federal Trade Commission said Friday the makers of Ocean Spray Cranberry Juice Cocktail had agreed to correct in future advertising the allegedly false nutritional claims it made in past ads. A consent order, provisionally accepted by the FTC, marked the agency's second triumph in its campaign to force companies to run "corrective ads" so that consumers would not continue to believe allegedly false claims.

GOP conclave to Miami

WASHINGTON — Without a murmur of dissent, the Republican National Committee voted Friday to move the party's 1972 convention from San Diego to Miami Beach, where the Democrats will pick their presidential candidate five weeks before the GOP. The Republican switch from San Diego means that the national conventions of both major parties will be held in the same city for the first time in 20 years.

More bodies found in mine

KELLOGG, Idaho — Rescuers found three more bodies Friday night in the Sunshine Mine, raising the death toll from a four-day-old fire to 35. "We still have hopes for the 47 still missing," Marvin C. Chase, vice president of the Sunshine Mining Co., said in announcing the discovery of the bodies.

Secret talks hit dead end

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. Henry A. Kissinger met secretly in Paris with North Vietnamese representatives Tuesday but made no headway in peace negotiations, the White House confirmed Friday.

Responding to disclosure of the trip by the North Vietnamese delegation to the Paris talks, White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said President Nixon's top foreign policy adviser did indeed make the undisclosed journey.

Other Washington officials said Kissinger discussed the Vietnam situation in terms of Nixon's eight point military-political settlement plan of Jan. 25, but that he received no encouragement from the North Vietnamese.

However U.S. officials were described as not discouraged by the outcome, and not disposed to regard the talks as permanently ruptured. It was believed possible that Kissinger might return to Paris later, perhaps when the current Communist offensive in South Vietnam ends.

Ziegler chastized North Vietnam for what he called another example of "bad faith" in publicizing the latest Kissinger trip. He said the United States had proposed publicizing the fact the meeting took place but withholding its contents. North Vietnam requested that nothing be publicized, "and we agreed," Ziegler said.

Despite the lack of progress from the trip, Ziegler said the United States remained "ready to talk in any channel if they are ready to talk seriously."

Because of Kissinger's increasingly frequently secret journeys to meet with foreign officials in Nixon's behalf, Washington reporters are keeping a close watch on his comings and goings. Nevertheless Tuesday's trip escaped notice here and first rumors of it surfaced in Europe.

Kissinger was seen here by a reporter at about 3 p.m. EDT Monday. Next word of his whereabouts — the White House has stopped giving out day-by-day details of his schedule — came Tuesday evening when he was reported to have dined with Nixon aboard the presidential yacht on the Potomac.

Retarded to get free schooling

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A three-judge federal court gave final approval Friday to agreements reached by attorneys and state authorities providing a free public school education for Pennsylvania's estimated 100,000 retarded children.

"Today, with this order, this group of citizens will have new hope in their quest for a life of dignity and self-sufficiency," U.S. District Court Judge Thomas A. Masterson said. The panel ruled that retarded children will be granted their rights to a free public education as of Sept. 1.

Masterson was a member of the three-judge panel which issued an original consent decree in the case last Oct. 8. Thirteen school districts and the Pennsylvania Association of Private Schools for Exceptional Children filed objections, ranging from lack of federal jurisdiction to claims that hearing procedures would be "burdensome."

Twelve of the districts eventually dropped out, leaving only the Lebanon-Lancaster District and the association as objectors.

U.S. Appeals Court Judge Arlin Adams and U.S. District Judge Raymond Broderick were the other members of the panel.

The consent decree resulted from a suit filed in January 1971 by the Pennsylvania Association for Retarded Children, which claimed school districts refused to accept retarded children aged six to eight and 17 to 21. Under the state school code, attendance is mandatory for those between the ages of eight and 17 but not earlier or later.

"We have absolutely no hesitation about approving the agreements as fair and reasonable," Masterson said. "Approval means that...retarded children heretofore excluded from a public program of education and training will no longer be excluded."

"This is a noble and humanitarian end which the Commonwealth has chosen to join," the opinion added.

Gov. Milton J. Shapp said earlier that the cost to the state of keeping a child in a state institution was $3,200 annually.

Food price takes dip

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Lower meat, poultry, fish and egg costs drove wholesale food prices down 0.7 per cent in April, the second straight monthly decline since sharp increases stirred consumers' anger.

Overall, the government reported Friday, the wholesale price index went up 0.1 per cent last month, with a 0.3 per cent increase in industrial commodity prices more than offsetting the drop in food.

At the same time, the government said that unemployment remained unchanged at 5.9 per cent of the work force in April. That was the 18th straight month that the rate has hovered near the 6 per cent mark.

Pa. redistricting court test asked

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Philadelphia District Attorney Arlen Specter Friday asked the U.S. Supreme Court to take immediate jurisdiction and rule Pennsylvania's State Legislative Reapportionment Plan unconstitutional even before a lower federal court hears the appeal.

Specter filed a 103-page brief with the nation's highest court challenging the 43 decision of the state Supreme Court on Feb. 7 upholding the plan devised by the Legislative Reapportionment Commission.

Although a three-judge panel has been established by the Third U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Specter said no hearing has yet been scheduled, nor has the state Supreme Court filed its opinion in which it upheld the reapportionment's constitutionality.

Specter charged the plan was unconstitutional because:

- It was promulgated without adequate and equal notice to the citizens of Philadelphia County.
- It establishes gerrymandered districts designed solely to protect incumbent legislators.
- It does not create districts substantially equal in population.

"For all these reasons, it violates the Fourteenth Amendment (equal protection clause)

HHH ahead of McGovern in Ohio election squeaker

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)— Sen. Hubert Humphrey led Sen. George McGovern 72 delegates to 68 Friday for control of the Ohio delegation at the Democratic National Convention in a race so tight the results could be reversed when split ballots are counted next week.

With 12,527 of 12,648 precincts reporting Humphrey had 480,812 votes to 462,103 for McGovern to give the Minnesota senator the state's 38 at-large delegates in the prolonged primary, held Tuesday.

Eight congressional district races with 37 delegates at stake were so close the results could be reversed when split ballots are counted. Split balloting was not expected to exceed 2 per cent of the total vote cast.

Humphrey won 34 of his 72 delegates in seven congressional districts, but his margin was so small in three districts he could end up losing 14 delegates to McGovern.

The South Dakota senator was on even more shaky ground with his 68 delegates from 14 districts. In five districts, McGovern stood to lose 23 delegates to Humphrey if split balloting reversed the trend.

Former Cleveland Mayor Carl B. Stokes, heading a

Cleveland election expanded

CLEVELAND (UPI)—A federal judge Friday expanded from 16 to 35 the number of metropolitan Cleveland precincts that will hold a special election next week because of a voting machine foulup in last Tuesday's Ohio primary election.

U. S. District Judge Frank J. Battisti, acting on advice from the Cuyahoga County board of elections, ordered the new elections next Tuesday because the voting machine problems kept thousands of voters from casting their ballots May 2.

Battisti earlier this week ordered new elections held next Tuesday in 16 precincts. In his order Friday, he deleted three precincts from the original list and added 22 others.

Earlier Friday, the judge turned down another suit asking that new elections be held in all of the county's 1,768 precincts, comprising about 23 per cent of Ohio's Democrats.

Delegate votes in question

Wallace faces fight

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)— Liberals and blacks may make it difficult for Alabama Gov. George Wallace to collect Tennessee's 49 delegate votes at the Democratic National Convention despite his stunning victory in this border state's first presidential primary.

With all but 43 of the state's 2,422 precincts reporting, Wallace had 332,529 votes or 68 per cent. Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota was a distant second with 77,732 votes and 16 per cent.

Third place went to Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota with seven per cent, followed by black congresswoman Shirley Chisholm of New York with four per cent.

The final lineup of delegates will not be known until June 10, but few hard-line Wallace supporters participated in the delegate selection process in which liberal forces have been hard at work.

favorite-son delegation, received eight delegates in the 21st Congressional District of his brother, Rep. Louis Stokes, D-Ohio. Rep. Wayne L. Hays received five other delegates pledged to him in the 18th District.

Votes already counted were those cast for a single presidential candidate's slate of convention delegates. Ohioans also had the option of voting for individual delegates, splitting their ballots among more than one presidential contender's delegates.

The split ballots were mailed in from county boards of election and will not be tabulated by the office of Secretary of State Ted W. Brown until next week.

Voters in 16 Cuyahoga County precincts where many polling places were not opened during Tuesday's election will get an opportunity to vote next Tuesday in a "supplemental" primary ordered by a federal judge in Cleveland. The new primary was not expected to have any effect on the total vote already tabulated.

Humphrey's statewide margin was too large to be overturned by the extra votes and McGovern carried all of Cuyahoga County's delegates except for the eight that went to Stokes.

There is evidence in some counties of drastic political change brought about by reforms designed to give blacks, women and the young a proportionate voice in the candidate selection process.

In metropolitan Nashville-Davidson county, for instance, many old line politicians have been ousted by a loose-knit liberal coalition in the precinct and county caucuses which will determine the makeup of the state and district conventions.

Similar drives are under way in other urban areas, as well as in smaller college towns.

Wallace carried every county in his sweep of Tennessee, where many voters are angered over racial busing edicts. The turnout was light, however, and there was evidence of widespread crossover voting by Republicans in the Democratic primary.

Democratic delegates could argue that only about one third of the state's registered voters participated in the primaries, and that this does not amount to a mandate.

They can also point to the crossover voting and the fact that Wallace was virtually unopposed.

U.S. opens Thailand air base

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States is reopening an air base in Thailand for an estimated 80 Phantom F4 fighter-bombers on their way to reinforce U.S. air support of South Vietnamese forces, the Pentagon said Friday.

Defense Department spokesman Jerry Friedheim refused to rule out the possibility that U.S. Marines might be sent ashore in South Vietnam to help protect and evacuate withdrawing American forces.

Friedheim said a base at Takli near Bangkok, Thailand, which had been closed more than a year ago, was being reopened to accommodate U.S. air reinforcements ordered to Southeast Asia as a result of Hanoi's five-week-old offensive against South Vietnam. Five other Thai base have remained open throughout the war.

The additional Phantom jets will be accompanied by about 2,000 crew and support personnel, who are among an estimated 40,000 U.S. servicemen involved in the recent buildup in air and sea support.

Most of the 40,000 are naval personnel stationed in the Gulf of Tonkin, where the pre-invasion force of two aircraft carriers has been boosted to five carriers, soon to be joined at least temporarily by a sixth—the Saratoga.

Of the 40,000 total in the buildup, only about 1,000 have actually set foot on South Vietnamese soil.

Friedheim, asked whether the United States still stood by Secretary of State William P. Rogers' statement that no U.S. ground combat troops would be sent into Vietnam, replied: "We will not resume the ground combat responsibility."

The State Department meanwhile accused North Vietnam and other sources abroad of spreading inaccurate and sensationalized accounts of the Paris negotiations.

No-fault forecast by June

LANCASTER, Pa. (UPI)— Insurance Commissioner Herbert S. Denenberg predicted Friday Pennsylvania would have no-fault automobile insurance by the end of June.

His statement conflicted with plans by the special House committee on no-fault which has scheduled public hearings for the next two months.

Denenberg told a broadcast meeting that Puerto Rico has had a successful no-fault program for two years, and both Massachusetts and Florida adopted the plan within the past year.

"The experience in Florida and Massachusetts prove that even a lousy no-fault law can greatly improve the present auto insurance system," he said. "A monkey at a typewriter could peek out a better system than we now have."

No-fault insurance provides that an accident victim could receive immediate payment from his own insurance company, regardless of who is at fault.

Denenberg said fifty eight cents of every auto liability insurance premium dollar goes for legal fees and insurance company expenses.

"This means the accident victim gets back only 42 cents in benefits out of each premium dollar," he said.

Rogers blames Soviets for Viet

BRUSSELS (UPI)—Secretary of State William P. Rogers presented a tough U.S. stand on the Vietnam War to European allies Friday and said that President Nixon will tell Kremlin leaders the Soviet Union bears responsibility for the current Communist offensive in Southeast Asia, American sources said.

In a briefing of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) council, Rogers made it clear that although Vietnam will be a major topic of conversation during Nixon's visit to the Soviet Union in June, the President does not expect to negotiate any agreement on the war with Kremlin leaders, the sources said.

The sources said Rogers repeated the U.S. position made last January that the United States would be agreeable to negotiating an end to the fighting in South Vietnam now and later work out a negotiated political settlement.

Following the session in Brussels, Rogers flew to Luxembourg where he met

Hopeful Muskie to hold hearings on tax reform

By United Press International

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, seeking to keep his non-primary candidacy for President alive from his power base in the Senate, announced Friday he will begin tax reform hearings next week focussed on legal loopholes that benefit major industries.

The hearings by his Senate Government Operations subcommittee were intended to publicize his April 18 speech calling for an end to federal income tax loopholes he estimated cost the Treasury $14 billion a year in potential revenues, his aides said.

Consumer advocate Ralph Nader will be the first witness starting Tuesday.

Muskie's staff noted that no 1971 taxes were paid by the Aluminum Company of America (Alcoa), Standard Oil of Ohio, U.S. Steel or Westvaco, even though Alcoa's net pre-tax income that year was $76.7 million; Sohio's was $61 million; U. S. Steel, $154.5 million, and Westvaco, $4.4 million.

Muskie dropped out as an active Democratic presidential contender after he suffered twin primary losses last week in Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, but made clear he still would be a candidate at the party's national convention in Miami Beach in July.

After Gov. George C. Wallace's overwhelming victory in the Tennessee primary Thursday, Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., led the field with 285 1-2 committed delegates to the Democratic convention, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., was second with 181, and Wallace was third with 169.

The North Carolina primary today, with 64 Democratic delegates at stake, could conceivably boost Wallace into second place over Humphrey in the delegate count. Neither Humphrey nor McGovern is running in North Carolina, although former Gov. Terry Sanford, a native liberal, is fighting to undercut Wallace's appeal among Tar Heels.

The delegate totals, compiled by United Press International, include only 88 elected delegates in the disputed Ohio

Israeli, Romanian heads strive for Mideast peace

BUCHAREST, Romania (UPI)—Israeli Premier Golda Meir and Romanian President Nicolae Ceausescu met for five hours in the presidential palace Friday in a new effort to bring peace to the Middle East.

Romanian government sources said Ceausescu was seeking a formula to bring the Arabs and Israel to the negotiating table.

Mrs. Meir gave her blessing to the Romanian effort in a speech Thursday.

"We believe the Romanian government can be helpful in influencing the parties in the conflict to enter into negotiations," she said.

In 1971, Egypt agreed to meet Israel in "proximity talks" in New York with the United States acting as go-between.

After an initial refusal, Israel, which wants face-to-face negotiations, accepted the plan, but it bogged down in technicalities.

An Israeli government spokesman said Friday's talks between Ceausescu and Mrs. Meir took place in a "relaxed and friendly atmosphere."

Mrs. Meir is on a four-day official visit to Romania—the first by an Israeli premier to any Communist state.

Romania is the only Warsaw Pact nation that did not break diplomatic relations with Israel during the 1967 Middle East war.

Ceausescu last month visited Cairo where he held talks with Egyptian President Anwar Sadat.

The Romanian leader's neutral stand on the Arab-Israeli conflict has frequently incurred the wrath of the Soviet Union. But so far the Kremlin has maintained silence on Mrs. Meir's visit.

Romanian government sources said that following his talks with Mrs. Meir, Ceausescu would suggest to the Arabs and Israel that they start peace talks.

How, where and when these talks could take place, the Romanians declined to elaborate.

Ex-state employes smugglers

HARRISBURG (UPI)— Attorney General J. Shane Creamer Friday announced the arrest of three former state Revenue Department employes and a Philadelphia Democratic Committeeman on several charges in connection with the alleged smuggling of over 100,000 cartons of cigarettes into Pennsylvania.

Creamer said Rocco Frumento, Andrew Millhouse and Leroy J. Wade, Jr., all former employes of the bureau of cigarette and beverage taxes, and John Sills of the Democratic City Committee were arrested on a warrant issued by Philadelphia Common Pleas Court Judge D. Donald Jamieson.

Creamer said the men were charged with conspiring to smuggle untaxed cigarettes into the state, evade payment of over $226,800 in taxes and extortion of more than $100,000 from a cigarette wholesaler.

Winning club

It was the first "Springlike" week of the new Spring; the grass was starting to green on village lawns, buds were forming on trees, one suddenly discovered that a topcoat was excess baggage. What better time for a garden club to bloom?

Bloom the Milford Garden Club did during the past week. First, there was a trip to Philadelphia, where the organization received recognition by the Philadelphia Inquirer in their Annual Tribute to Clubwomen. They were the only "small town" entry in the winner's circle.

However, the Philadelphia trip and the special recognition received was overshadowed by the events of this past Monday. Monday is a prosaic day when the only thing on the horizon usually is a week of work. But how wonderful was the morning, how splendid the day, when the news arrived that the Club had won $2,000 in the Better Community Contest sponsored by the Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce!

It was the 12th consecutive contest in which the local ladies had been on the prize list. Their total winnings, since the 1956 contest, are now $9,700. This money does not go into the regular club treasury but is poured into the community to help maintain beautification and environmental programs that the club has been promoting for a decade and a half.

However, anyone who has the idea that the ladies consider themselves special Florence Nightingales of the flower boxes, is in for a shock.

In their contest entry application, the club stressed community cooperation and they really meant it.

Even in the midst of receiving congratulations, following the exciting news from Harrisburg on Monday, club officials were proclaiming it was a community award; that without the firemen and the Lions and Scouts who picked up trash and people who opened their hearts and homes to stranded visitors on Thanksgiving, there would have been no stories to tell, no scrapbook to compile no prize.

Their attitude, in eagerly proclaiming the work of others in a moment of triumph, makes the club's Spring blooming look all the more beautiful.

Trail ride on tap

West End Bureau

GILBERT — A total of 33 riders, ranging in age from 10 to 73, will compete in the second annual Pocono Mountain Competitive Trail ride on May 20 and May 21.

The 50-mile ride, jointly sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Price, Jr. of Snyder'sville and the Pennsylvania Equine Council, is designed to acquaint riders with endurance-type riding as well as the Pocono countryside.

The overall purpose of the event is to stimulate greater interest in the breeding and use of good saddle horses that possess stamina and hardiness.

During the two-day contest, each rider must train, condition, ride and care for his horse without the aid of artificial methods or stimulants so that after a timed 50-mile ride (25 miles each day) the horse will be in top-notch shape.

The ride is open to any breed of horse at least four years old, and contestants are divided into three categories; juniors, ages 8 to 18; lightweights, over 18 and weighing 155 to 180 pounds with tac and heavyweights, over 18 and weighing over 180 with tac.

Race schedule

The check-in and pre-ride examinations will begin on Friday, April 19. Riders will start the race at one minute intervals beginning at 8 a.m. Saturday and Sunday.

The 25 miles must be completed in no less than four hours and no more than four hours and thirty minutes.

Three qualified horsemen, one who is a veterinarian, will award blue competition ribbons for all horses finishing the 50 miles. Trophies and ribbons will be awarded in each category and special trophies will be given to best horse, best horseman and grand champion.

A riders' dinner will be held on Saturday evening at the West End Fire Hall.

The ride is open to any spectators, who may watch the startings or returns, or observe the ride at any point along the trails.

Spectators may also observe the pre-ride and night check when the veterinarian determines the stamina of the horse.

Phone cable work begins

KUNKLETOWN — The Palmetto Telephone Company announced this week that construction on additional telephone cables has begun in the company's Kunkletown exchange.

The new cable, similar to the project that was completed in Kresgeville last year, will enable subscribers to obtain private lines.

The construction will also provide modern plant facilities for the area.

Approximately 2100 miles of wire is contained in the 20 miles of cable in the project. Construction, splicing and installation of additional central office equipment will be completed this summer.

Parties agree to talk

Fire school discussions set

BANGOR — Following a meeting with the Northampton County Commissioners, Washington Township Supervisors and members of the Northampton County Fire School Association have agreed to talk out their differences.

The firemen and township officials have been at odds with each other during recent months because of strong objections to the fire school's training program by residents and property owners near the school.

The school's training program got underway last October and the schedule has involved extinguishing fuel and vehicle fires.

Property owners near the school have argued that the open burning is dangerous and causes noxious odors and vast amounts of dense oily smoke.

The school, located on the Bangor-Martins Creek Road, presented two fire training sessions in October and two last month.

The programs and training are for members of the 41 fire companies in Northampton County.

Burning ban

Ray Marsh, vice president of the firemen's association, has indicated that the state Department of Environmental Resources has banned open burning of flammable liquids.

Under the law, the association must secure a permit from the DER in order to conduct fires.

Marsh told the commissioners and the supervisors the association has been negotiating to build a cement-brick tower in which the fires will be set.

He noted the tower would not eliminate all smoke or odors, but added that it would contain a fire.

Mal Wilder, secretary of the fire school, told the governmental officials that the open pit method of teaching is not the most satisfactory type of training, and that the open pit method is being phased out of the training program.

However, Wilder could not say whether vehicle fires would be eliminated from the training program.

Relocate school

Several residents have expressed the opinion that the fire school should be located in an area which is less residential than the present location.

One of the fears of nearby residents is that their property valuation will decrease because of the school.

County Commissioners Martin J. Bechtel and James A. Hemstreet both said the school could be located anywhere in the township because there is no zoning ordinance in existence in the township which would restrict its location.

Bechtel expressed the opinion that without such an ordinance it was unlikely the unhappy residents could force the school to relocate.

Hemstreet questioned the supervisors as to why they had not adopted a zoning ordinance or an open burning ordinance.

Supervisor chairman Earl Jennings replied the board has been working for some time developing a zoning ordinance. He said the board had received help from the Joint Planning Commission of Lehigh-Northampton Counties, but that the ordinance had received strong opposition from many township residents.

Phoenix Players perform in Wilkes-Barre festival

WILKES-BARRE — Members of the Community Theatre of the Stroudsburgs will present excerpts from "Macbeth," as their entrance in the second annual Theatre Association of Pennsylvania Festival Competition, slated for Friday, today and Sunday.

The Phoenix Players of Stroudsburg have abbreviated the Shakespearean work to one hour in order to conform to the competition rules.

The weekend festival will climax on Sunday with the judging of entered plays on the stage of the Wilkes College Center for the Performing Arts. The cast of "Macbeth," will be accompanied by their director and stage crew.

The theater at Wilkes College is a new structure with capacity to seat 500 persons. Each program entered in the competition, as well as the critique following each performance are all open to the public.

The competition at Wilkes-Barre will include entries from two other area theaters. They are: The Drama Keys from Plymouth Township Community Theatre in Norristown, doing excerpts from Edgar Lee Master's "Spoon River Anthology," and the York Little Theater cast of "The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie," doing an abbreviated version of that play.

Two other regional festivals make up the total scope of the competition and will be held at later dates.

The first, slated for May 28, will be at the M.C.T. Valley Playhouse in Monroeville, and will include acting groups from Butler, Monroeville, Washington and Oil City.

The second will be held on June 10 at the Penn State Campus in New Kensington and will include groups from Wilkesburg, Lewistown New Kensington and Pittsburgh.

All three competitions will be judged by a panel of three highly qualified judges. The rehearsals for the Wilkes-Barre festival are slated to begin on Saturday morning with judging on Sunday.

The Theatre Association of Pennsylvania is a three year old organization, first established in May 1969. Its purpose is to promote and encourage all forms of theatre and dramatic activities in Pennsylvania.

TAP was formed as a result of a meeting between representatives of professional, academic and community theatre groups from various regions throughout the state.

According to TAP president, Bert Smith, anyone who is interested in theater and subscribes to the goals and purposes of TAP is eligible for membership. The association's main headquarters are located at P.O. Box M, Pleasant Gap, Pa.

Planning for Bicentennial moving in 7-county area

WILKES-BARRE — Walter R. Chapel, development coordinator for the Economic Development Council of Northeastern Pennsylvania, recently outlined the current efforts by the seven-county region of Northeastern Pennsylvania to organize a Bicentennial planning program.

His comments were made at a regional meeting of the Bicentennial Commission of Pennsylvania at the Luzerne County Courthouse, Wilkes-Barre.

He said through cooperative efforts of the tourist promotion agencies serving the region and EDCNP, a Northeastern Council on the Bicentennial is being formed consisting of two representatives of each of the counties of Carbon, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Monroe, Pike, Schuylkill and Wayne.

Howard J. Grossman, executive director of the EDCNP, noted that "the basic concept is to develop representation from each of the seven counties which would coordinate plans between this year and 1976 and to develop an annual strategy in each of the years for action programs."

Grossman continued, "The Bicentennial Council will meet in the near future to stimulate specific projects in each county. Task forces on various aspects of the celebration, such as cultural resources, historical preservation, physical facilities, fund raising and others, can be established."

The EDCNP's statement, which represents the current planning efforts in northeastern Pennsylvania, noted a variety of development projects in the region in recent years which should have significant impact on Bicentennial planning.

These include regional input to a statewide Outdoor Recreation Plan, the establishment of a Pennsylvania Anthracite Museum Complex, the economic impact of the skiing industry in the region, the formation of a Northeastern Pennsylvania Conservancy, the possible location of a Pennsylvania arts center in the Poconos and other factors.

The tourist promotion agencies in the seven-county region have taken an active role and leadership in the development of a coordinated Bicentennial planning program for northeastern Pennsylvania.

County backs off on Tocks stand

The Monroe County Commissioners have taken a stand against taking a stand. Last week, Commission Chairman Mrs. Nancy B. Shukaitis suggested the commissioners might have to reverse their formal position on Tocks taken by a past board because of the anti-Tocks vote in the primary.

The formal position of the long-ago commissioners was one in support of the multi-million dollar project. Mrs. Shukaitis, who was elected to the commission in 1967, rode her anti-Tocks stand into office.

Since that time she has complained loud and long about the project, often using her position to expound on the evils she is confident the project will bring to Monroe County.

Increasing opposition

During the last two months, several officials in the seven-county Tocks Island project area have voiced increasingly their opposition to the project, the latest such blast coming from the Warren County, N.J., Board of Freeholders, who passed a resolution opposing the project.

The one-fifth of the voter turnout who bothered to vote on the question in the April primary were overwhelmingly opposed to the Tocks Island Dam.

With the primary less than two weeks in the past, Mrs. Shukaitis apparently has decided the roughly 2,000 people who voted against the dam, are the "voice of the county". That may be a weak assumption, but at least it is something to go on.

The unfortunate part about the entire Tocks stand incident is that Mrs. Shukaitis has apparently reneged on her promise to change the county's official stand.

The commissioners do not intend to take an anti-Tocks position at this time, in spite of the fact that this is what Mrs. Shukaitis has demanded for the past six years.

Delegated responsibility

Instead of taking a position, the commissioners have left it to the discretion of Thomas Klock, executive director-secretary of the Tocks Island Regional Advisory Council, to make known the results of the primary vote, the county water study proposal, the county planning commission's position on the DRBC sewerage disposal plan for the Tocks region to a House Committee hearing the matter.

Klock is left holding the bag. It seems unlikely that he will not be condemned for whatever he decides to tell the federal legislators about the Tocks situation.

And, as a parting note, we can hardly resist comparing the performance by Monroe County's commissioners with those of Pike County. The latter board wrote to Klock, telling him in no uncertain terms that the organization he heads is an advisory board, and doesn't speak for the member counties.

Pike County, the commissioners said, will make their position known themselves when it comes time to appear before the House Appropriations Committee. While they haven't yet decided pro or con on Tocks, it is obvious when the time comes, they will, unequivocally. Perhaps it would be a good idea for Monroe County's commissioners to visit with their Pike County brethren and see how they represent their constituency.

Coin Corner

Cleaning those coins

BY ROBERT SVENSSON

"How much is my coin worth?"

"How do you clean coins?"

These are the two most frequently asked questions in the mail bag. Right now let's deal with the second one.

To clean or not to clean poses a dilemma indeed. Coin collectors constantly hear that coins should not be cleaned under any circumstances. Then they open their favorite coin publication and read any number of ads for cleaning solutions guaranteed to make their old shabby coins look like new.

So what's to do?

This column has given this advice before, several years ago. We cover the subject again now for the benefit of newcomer to the hobby. Clip it and put it away for future reference.

Still a sow's ear

Polish does not make a

Brilliant Uncirculated coin out of an old worn one. In fact, a coin that is really old or scarce should never be polished, or even rubbed for that matter. Coins acquire a "patina" with age and many collectors like this. Also, shined-up coins are sometimes looked upon with suspicion by potential buyers. They fear someone is trying to fool them.

On the other hand, a collection of common dates such as a fill the average album will look better and brighter if they are given a bit of a buff. So go head, shine up the common dates, but leave the rare ones as they are. Let them grow old gracefully.

A very inexpensive cleanup job can be accomplished by mixing a little baking soda and water. Make a light paste and rub your coins gently. Then wash them. They'll look beautiful.

Merry-go-round

Vietnam no obstacle?

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Kremlin czar Leonid Brezhnev used tough language to impress upon Henry Kissinger in Moscow that Russia will continue to support North Vietnam.

But Brezhnev assured the President's peripatetic foreign policy adviser that the Vietnam War need not stand in the way of better Soviet-American relations.

The conversations continued, off and on, for four days. Sources privy to the secret details tell us Brezhnev was furious over U.S. suggestions that the Soviets had equipped Hanoi for an invasion of South Vietnam.

President Nixon himself served an oblique warning upon the Kremlin that "great powers cannot avoid the responsibility for the use of arms by those to whom they give them." Brezhnev offered no apologies for furnishing Hanoi with the T-54 tanks, heavy artillery and other sophisticated weapons that have shown up on the fighting fronts. The North Vietnamese have used these heavy arms to spearhead their new offensive.

Brezhnev not only acknowledged that Soviet military shipments to Hanoi have been increased, but he made it plain he would risk alienating the United States before abandoning North Vietnam.

He suggested that a Vietnam settlement can still be negotiated. However, there was no Soviet offer to soften Hanoi's terms. Brezhnev and Kissinger merely agreed that the two superpowers shouldn't let the Vietnam War disrupt their efforts to seek a Soviet-American detente.

Back at the White House, Kissinger apparently has persuaded the President not to let the Vietnam fighting jeopardize relations with the Russians. Nixon's first reaction after the new North Vietnamese offensive was to hit back. He said privately that he wasn't going to permit the United States to be pushed around. But the original hard U.S. line, at least so far as Russia is concerned, has now been softened.

The government of Thailand has accused us of "slandering accusations" for reporting how prominent Thai help to hustle heroin to U.S. markets.

Through its embassy in Washington, Thailand angrily charged that our recent column on the Thai drug trade was based "merely on hearsay."

In fact, our report was based upon a thorough field investigation by American narcotics and intelligence agents. The Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) has published five reports dealing wholly or in part with the Thai dope trade. These reports, classified "Confidential" and "Secret," substantiate our charges.

The Thais claim, for example, that they "began an intensive campaign against dangerous drugs more than ten years ago." They say the Bangkok government has taken "effective measures" against drugs. A program to get hill tribesmen to stop growing opium, they add, has "met with success."

These statements are flatly contradicted by the five CIA documents, dated from October, 1970 to October 1971.

Far from showing progress in the last ten years, Thailand and its two neighbors, Burma and Laos, have "evolved in the past ten years from a major center for the growing and production of intermediate narcotics products to a major center for producing finished heroin."

As for the alleged success in preventing tribesmen from growing opium, the CIA states: "Government measures to curtail the growth of the opium poppy among the hill tribes in . . . Thailand have been ineffective."

Thai law authorities, whom the government claims have cracked down on the drug traffic, are actually in cahoots with the smugglers.

Decline of protests

One night last week, well after midnight, the telephone rang in the dormitory room of a Dartmouth student active in conservative politics. What did he think about the bombing in Vietnam? the reporter wanted to know. "I don't care about Vietnam," he answered, hung up, and went back to bed.

That answer wasn't exactly what he meant, at least not quite; the next day, when the quote appeared in print, gasps of horror went up from the Righteous and the Concerned.

Poor turnout

Yet his exasperated midnight answer sheds a good deal of light on the campus mood at the moment. Over on the Left, the campus newspaper called for a strike and the cancellation of classes. Nothing happened. Only 50 people went down to Concord for the protest events in the state capital.

True enough, there were riots in Cambridge, Mass., confusion, as usual, at Columbia, and trouble at the University of Maryland. But on the whole, Dartmouth's reaction was more the rule. The campus newspaper and a handful of radical faculty went to the barricades as they had in 1970, but when they looked around the followers they expected were playing softball.

A few observations:

(1) Boredom has been a potent factor in all this. There have been too many articles, arguments and speeches about Vietnam for most people to sustain a live interest in the subject. The war has been on the evening news every night for what seems like a millennium. The handful of radical faculty members on campus have begun to seem like mere marionettes, twitching every so often into their familiar routines. Nobody wants to hear any more about it. The previous 500 speeches have been quite enough, thank you.

Effect of draft

(2) All along, though some indignantly deny it, the draft was a potent factor in the student movement. The draft affected their lives directly and, in a sense, for the average protester, the draft was the war. With the lottery system and the advance toward a volunteer professional army, the emotional root of the protest movement has been severed.

(3) The objective in Vietnam has been transformed since 1968 and 1970. Few Americans are dying. The North Vietnamese all too clearly have mounted a conventional invasion, complete with tanks, artillery and rockets. You have to be much further gone in left-wing depravity than most students actually are to be able to side with the invading up-peddler, and march against the use of American airpower.

(4) No doubt a Kent State-type killing or some other such affair could change the campus mood but, as of now, few are stirred by the bombing of the North, and it doesn't much matter how many tons are dropped.

Viet deaths avoidable

Editor, The Record:

Last week Tran Hung Ly, a Vietnamese student and close personal friend, was obliterated into safety and freedom by an American bomb dropped on the direct order of President Nixon.

The idea of this young man's death is not new to his region of the world nor for that matter ours, but the sickening realization is that it and millions more like it could have been avoided.

In this quarter-century, total casualties in killed and wounded have reached almost two million, while four million Vietnamese have been uprooted from their homes and villages. The terrible toll of the war has thus directly struck at some six million individuals, almost one out of every five inhabitants of Vietnam. In comparable American terms that would mean 40 million war victims, if ever the United States were to be hit as hard as we have hit the suffering people in Vietnam.

The renewed genocide concocted by the Nixonian cabinet is beyond all reason, beyond all humanity. It is senseless, brutal and totally unforgiving. The price we as a nation will have to pay for our crimes will be high indeed.

Having had a chance to view the situation first hand I can safely say that the bombing and American involvement in South East Asia has met dismal failure.

The only honorable course this nation has left is to admit now that what we have committed in South East Asia is a terrible and grave mistake and pay the price that we must pay.

Hanoi has been given no choice but to continue to fight as American aircraft continue to desecrate the North.

There is no honor in our present course, no justification. Who are we that the president of this nation has the right to determine under what political system other people shall live and work?

The Vietnamese people feel the fighting and dying they know so well will end when the American forces leave their country and that our presence tends only to prolong their suffering.

Alas, every nation and every family, every single individual has more than enough

"reason" to give his utmost in behalf of the peace for which we all yearn. Only a vanishing minority of men truly want the war to go on — and beyond a doubt they deserve our contempt and sincerest hatred. No one else, only a very few morbid fanatics or unscrupulous criminals are in favor of this war, and yet — inconceivable as it seems — it goes on and on, with both sides arming indefatigably for the allegedly final holocaust!

This is possible only because we are all too lazy, too easygoing, too cowardly. It is possible only because somewhere in our secret hearts we approve or tolerate the war, because we throw all the resources of our minds and souls to the winds and let the misguided machines roll on! That is what the political leaders do, and what the armies do, but we ourselves, the onlookers, are no better. The war must be stopped and only the people can stop it. Nixon has no wish for peace only for power and prestige. History will rank him with Caesar, Hitler, and others who were leaders of imagined great nations in a great time with a great people. Even the great can commit crimes.

Now is the time to oust those statesmen who conceive foreign policy in terms of self-seeking national programs, who ignore the cry of mankind! Why wait until their stupidity has shed the blood of more millions? All of us — great and small, belligerents and neutrals — we must not close our ears to the dire warning of this hour, the threat of such unthinkable horrors.

Peace is at hand! As a thought, a desire, a suggestion, as a power working in silence, it is everywhere, in every heart. If each one of us firmly resolves to serve the cause of peace, to communicate his thoughts and intimations of peace — if every man of good will decides to devote himself exclusively for a little while to clearing away the obstacles, the barriers to peace, then we shall have peace.

If that is done we shall all have helped to bring it about, we shall all feel worthy of the great tasks it will impose — whereas hitherto we have all been possessed by a feeling of shared guilt.

Tocks endangers area

Editor, The Record:

This is in reply to the East Stroudsburg State College student and in agreement with W.W.C. of Stroudsburg.

The group that is pushing to end Tocks is interested in the pros and cons of the Tocks issue. Otherwise a debate between the two opposing forces would not have been arranged, with the public invited. They have the right to present their ideas and reasons for the blocking of Tocks.

I don't believe that this group is trying to show that they can beat the "establishment", but that they can fight and desperately try to stop a project they believe will eventually have a choking effect on them and the valley.

I believe that there are many worthwhile reasons to stop the Tocks Island Dam. Algae will form, mud flats will exist on the borders of the dam and generators will shoot forth poisonous substances into the waters. Hunting, fishing and summer residents will disappear.

I feel that if Tocks is not prevented, the ecology problem of this valley will be at such a degree as to make the area uninhabitable.

Solutions for 'pollution'

Editor, The Record:

Pictures of collapsing porches and buildings (such as that of the tumble-down porch on Stoffel Street, Stroudsburg) do not cure a community of its pollution ills.

Publicizing names of owners of such facilities might be a more effective first step toward a cure.

Perhaps interviewing some of the frustrated homeowners and tenants surrounding blighted buildings would be a second significant step toward an effective solution.

The Pennsylvania Story

Mason Denison

HARRISBURG — An unfunny thing happened to Gov. Milton Shapp on his way to the Miami Beach Democratic Convention — the Pennsylvania primary election.

Back in January, despite pleas for neutrality from many of the State Democratic hierarchy, Shapp came out full-fledged for Maine Senator Edmund Muskie for that party's presidential nomination.

At that time, to most pundits, Muskie looked like a "shoo-in" for his party's nod in Florida in July. But this column noted February 2 that "things are not nearly as certain for the Maine politico in this State."

Calculated risk

That February column went on to say that by announcing his selection before the April 25 Pennsylvania primary, "His Excellency is taking a calculated risk."

Should Muskie lose Pennsylvania, the column continued, "the Governor's power and prestige in the state party and the State Legislature will have sustained a hard blow. Other Pennsylvania Governors in the past faced similar situations — do you jump on what you consider to be the bandwagon; or do you remain neutral?"

Well, the Pennsylvania primary is now history and Senator Muskie went down to another defeat (as well as in Massachusetts the same day!), and decided two days later to withdraw from active campaigning, dragging along with him much of the political prestige of Gov. Shapp.

Ironically, Shapp's predecessor found himself in similar straits.

Four years ago prior to the GOP Presidential Convention, Governor Raymond P. Shafer came out four-square for New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller. Several months later a gent named Richard M. Nixon strolled into the convention hall and locked up the proceedings. True, Shafer went on to campaign hard for Nixon but it was a case of the Governor having jumped on the wrong bandwagon prior to the convention.

Not that Shafer and Shapp were in any unique position. Other Pennsylvania governors in the past faced similar situations — "do you jump on what you consider to be the bandwagon; or do you remain neutral?"

So as things turned out, Tuesday's doling added up to another rebuff for Governor Shapp.

Role playing

One of the most important ways we tell the world who we are — or who we would like to be — is the manner in which we dress. ABC News correspondent Harry Reasoner probes the subtle ways all of us play roles and project images on the ABC News special, "Who Do You Think You Are? — The Masks We Wear," Monday, 8-8:30 p.m. on the ABC Television Network.

Emphasis on youth marks music week schedule here

STROUDSBURG — The Lancaster County Youth Symphony Orchestra will present Music Week on Sunday at 8 p.m. in the East Stroudsburg High School Auditorium.

The 74 member orchestra is under the direction of Prof. Otis Kitchen. The program will feature a bassoon solo by Gail Ober who will play the rondo movement of Mozart's Bassoon Concerto.

Gail has been with the Youth Symphony for five years and is assistant first bassoonist with the Lancaster Symphony Orchestra.

Young people have also had a share in planning and participating in the local observance of the week which is sponsored by the National Federation of Music Clubs.

A poster contest announcing the concert was won by Renee Kulba, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John B. Kulba, East Broad St., East Stroudsburg, president of the Juvenile Music Club. Honorable mentions went to Dieter Kerschner, Dirdre Kerschner and Terry Butz.

Juvenile and Junior Music Club members will serve as ushers at the concert.

Young people will also present a number of Music Week recitals: May 7, 2 p.m. students of Eleanor D. Bender in the Blairstown United Methodist Church and students of Mrs. Olga Weldlich, 2:15 in the United Salem Church of Christ, Gilbert.

May 8, 8 p.m., piano recital by Miss Janet K. Marsh at the Stroud Community House; May 12, 7 p.m. students of Mrs. Bender at the Stroudsburg United Methodist Church.

On Wednesday, May 10, at 6:30 The Pocono Junior Music Study Club will present a special television program on BRB-TV, 13, Stroudsburg. Members appearing on the program are those who received superior or excellent ratings at the Junior Festival held in Allentown in March: Karen Reich, Claudia Getz, Susan Becker, Barbara Fichter, Cynthia Krome, Christine Butler, Marcy Zimmerman and Debbie Myers with K. Bernard Schade, accompanist.

The Pocono Juvenile Music Club will close the week with a Mother's Day Tea on May 14, at 1:30 at the Zion United Church of Christ, when they will present a kinder symphony under the direction of Mrs. Lucy B. Quig.

For members of the Music Study Club of the Stroudsburg, the highlight of the week will be the program on New Horizons with Pennsylvania Composers at Pinebrook Junior College on May 9 at 8 p.m.

Additions to the youth participation schedule include: May 7, glee club, junior chorus, faculty chorus and interpretive dance, Notre Dame High School, 8 p.m.; May 10, Senior High Chorus, Stroudsburg High School, 8 p.m.; May 11, elementary band, Stroudsburg High School, 7:30 p.m.

Planned Parenthood names board members

EAST STROUDSBURG — New Board members elected to the Monroe County Planned Parenthood Association at the April luncheon board meeting were Sharyne Donfield, Sherry Beshore, Mrs. Barry Green and Dr. Carol Underwood.

Thomas H. Knepp, Vice President, presided at the business meeting due to the absence of Dr. Alberta Finch, President.

Clinic Chairman, Mrs. Richard Gaunt, announced new clinic workers, Mrs. Edward Bolland, Mrs. Russell C. Cramer II, Mrs. Coby Lee and Wendy Weingartner. She also informed the members that a new procedure is being used for the detection of gonorrhea.

The campaign will run until May 31, announced campaign chairman, Mrs. Richard Primrose. There have been more contributors, although the goal has not yet been met.

Dr. Sherwood Samet, medical director of the Clinic, stressed the need for sex education in the schools. There are more pregnancies in younger girls coming from the area Junior-Senior High Schools he said.

College program director, Sharyne Donfield, reported approximately 300 people have sought counseling since the beginning of the year through her service.

Mrs. Doyle D. Galloway, public relations chairman, reported on the Mid-Atlantic meeting held in Philadelphia. Those attending from the local clinic were Dr. Albert Finch, Mrs. Robert R. Hellmann, Sherry Beshore, Sharyne Donfield, and Mrs. Galloway.

Executive Director, Mrs. Robert R. Hellmann, reported activities since the January board meeting. There were many talks given including Pocono Mountain High School, Notre Dame, Expectant Parent's Class, Zion United Church Women, United Methodist Church Women, Cresco and Arlington Wesleyan Church Women.

Planned Parenthood had a display table at the Earth Fair and had a good response. Members gave out literature and answered questions. Those participating were Sherry Beshore, Sharyne Donfield, and Mrs. Doyle D. Galloway.

Officers elected for the coming year are Dr. Alberta Finch, president; Thomas H. Knepp, vice-president; Dr. Catharine Michie, recording secretary and Walter Wyckoff, treasurer.

Speaker to analyze problems of growth

STROUDSBURG — Two awards to the Woman's Club of the Stroudsburgs were announced at the executive board meeting held this week at the Stroud Community House by the president, Mrs.

William Mitchell. A community service grant from the Sears Foundation acknowledged the club's role in the 50th anniversary celebration of the purchase of the Stroud Community House. A state award was given for 100 per cent enrollment in the Pennsylvania Federated Clubwoman.

Miss Anna Stem was voted into membership.

At the general meeting on Monday, May 8, at 1:30, new members will be recognized as well as members serving as volunteers in the Well Baby Clinic and in the Library.

Speaker will be Charles Holzbog, director of environmental design for the Tocks Island Regional Advisory Committee. He will give an illustrated talk on "How to preserve the character of the region in face of growth".

Hostess chairman will be Mrs. Robert Marley, Mrs. Brian B. Walker Sr. and Mrs. Gordon Coy, Sr.

During the board meeting, it was voted to participate in the summer Sidewalk Days.

Music week program Sunday at Gap church

DELAWARE WATER GAP — A special musical program in observance of National Music Week, sponsored by the National Federation of Music Clubs, will be held at the Delaware Water Gap United Methodist Church on Sunday morning at 11 a.m.

The program will include an anthem by the senior choir with Robert Kaiser as soloist, the male chorus and an instrumental prelude by Miss Valerie Kaiser, pianist, and Vernon Imbt, organist-director.

Rev. Raymond P. Poortstra, pastor of the church, will have as his topic "Make a Joyful Noise Unto the Lord".

Just Between Us—

By Bobby Westbrook

It's no accident that the Skittlers Bowling banquet ends up on social rather than sports since the emphasis has always been on that aspect of the game. The main differences between the banquet and the season were that all the "girls" were wearing their most feminine dresses and that they'd left their pre-schoolers at home.

Although some of the youngsters had been faithful enough in attendance to merit a place at the banquet, I should think. Anyway it's the only league I know of where they elected a vice president for the announced reason that she'd lost the most weight during the season.

Anyway, it was a gala affair and they made so much noise that you couldn't have heard the crash of bowling pins even if they'd held it in the alleys.

I think, probably, that's true of any bowling banquet since, with the team spirit and a season of shared experiences, there's none of the formal stiffness that sometimes descends on other banquets.

There's something about doing things together with your hands: Bowling, golf, sewing for bazaars, cooking for suppers, quilting for the church, folding bandages for cancer, that break down the barriers more quickly than more passive participation.

There's nothing passive about the Music Study Club participation in National Music Week — and if they have their way we'll all be active enough at least to get to some of their many special events.

Record names carrier of month

EAST STROUDSBURG — Scott Pettinato, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Pettinato, of 476 King St., East Stroudsburg, has been named Pocono Record Carrier Boy of the Month for April.

The 12-year-old sixth grade student at J.M. Hill Elementary School has been a Record carrier boy since October of 1970.

He has a perfect service record for all of this year, and added to that his collection record for the year is also perfect.

He has qualified as a "Professional Carrier" with his perfect record, and since being named carrier of the month he will be able to compete for the "Carrier of the Year" award.

To date some of the things he has purchased with his carrier earnings include a mini bike, bicycle and his own bedroom suite.

His extracurricular activities include being a member of the Dawn Patrol, Pocono Record Bowling League, and being the captain of his school intramural basketball team. He also plays the trumpet for the school band.

Last year he was a catcher and outfielder for The PoconoBank Little League team. This year he will be playing in the infield for the same team.

Health Dept. study shows 63 physicians in Monroe

Record Harrisburg Bureau
HARRISBURG — The first comprehensive survey by the state Department of Health of licensed health personnel in Pennsylvania shows 63 physicians (M.D.s and D.O.s) in Monroe County.

In addition, the county is listed as having 20 dentists, three dental hygienists, 357 registered nurses, 87 licensed practical nurses, 34 registered pharmacists, six physical therapists, three podiatrists, four chiropractors and four optometrists.

The 63 physicians shows that on the basis of the 1970 census, the county had one physician for every 721 persons—ranking Monroe ninth among the states 67 counties.

The county ranked 36th in number of dentists, with one for every 2,271, while the three dental hygienists gave one per 15,140 residents, for a ranking of 47th.

Monroe ranked 34th with the 357 registered nurses, or one to 127, while the 87 practical nurses, one for every 522, ranked the county 60th.

The county's 34 pharmacists provided one for every 1,335 for an eighth ranking and the six physical therapists gave a ranking of sixth, or one for every 7,570.

The three podiatrists gave a ranking of 13th, one for every 15,140, and four licensed chiropractors provided one for every 11,355 for a ranking of 31st.

Four optometrists, one for every 11,355, gave the county 41st place. The overall relation gives Monroe County 29th ranking.

In Pike County, seven physicians are licensed, plus four dentists, 41 registered nurses, 14 practical nurses, six pharmacists and one chiropractor.

This is how Pike looks (with rank among counties in parenthesis):

Physicians—one for every 1,688 (60); dentists—one for every 2,954 (55); registered nurses—one for 288 (67); practical nurses—one to 844 (66); pharmacists—one to 1,969 (23); chiropractors—one for the county's population of 11,818 (33).

Your Horoscope

Frances Drake

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Mars highly auspicious. Your personality will be bright, your ideas convincing and your efforts competent — IF you pitch in with will and grit.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Re-establish connections that were sound, still are, and carry weight. You could err over small details if not careful.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — You may receive some unusual suggestions. Note, however, where ideas and proffered aid come from: Sidestep the unethical.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Judicious moves and well-deliberated speech should be stressed now. Listen to suggestions, but heed your intuition, too.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — You are always a battler for your rights and those of others. And this trait may be needed now. BUT, know when to use the handy tool of silence, too.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — Better-than-average influences. Put forth your finest efforts and there's nothing to keep you from scoring a dandy record.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — You should feel highly optimistic now. There's possibility of a new undertaking, friendship, project. Tackle difficult situations with confidence.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio) — Favorable influences. Be eager to improve all situations, particularly in "small" details, so often overlooked or considered minor.

November 23 to December 21 (Sagittarius) — Don't wait too long before making up your mind in matters where the time element is important. Highly favored: Writings, finances, travel for business purposes.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn) — In all discussions, listen to both sides and draw thoughtful conclusions. Where necessary, aim to neutralize opposition and dissension. The "peace-maker" role will pay off.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius) — You can mold this day largely as you will. Fine stellar influences should help you out in extracurricular activities — especially if they are of a creative nature.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces) — The things you planned and hoped would run "just so" may suffer delay, even a setback. Take all in stride. A philosophical attitude will command respect and inspire others.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a fine mind, lofty ambitions and remarkable intuition. Always alert to opportunity, you grasp each as it comes — no matter how challenging — and reach top levels of attainment with seeming ease. Sometimes the "ease" is but a facade, however, for you have to be constantly praised or encouraged as you go along or you wither on the vine. And adulation is not always forthcoming. In fact, envy and jealousy may follow a swift climb to fame. You MUST learn to ignore this, as a foible of human nature.

This boy knows that courtesy is good business

Newspaper route management can be a boy's first step forward

A BOY with a newspaper route truly is in business for himself. With an assist from our people who are experienced in working with boys.

He buys his newspapers from us and retails them to you.

He sells, he delivers, and he collects. Like any good businessman, he keeps records (you can see how valuable this is in applying the lessons he learns in the classroom in a practical way).

And like any good businessman, he shows a profit. A boy with a newspaper route earns money that can help him build a sizable bank account of his own. Useful for the things he wants. Even for a college education.

Not only does a newspaper route sharpen a young boy's business sense (which will be helpful to him throughout life no matter what career he chooses). It also offers him some important extras — the ability to deal with people, and the lessons of promptness, of care, of self-reliance, and of good manners.

In these ways, a newspaperboy manages to keep a step ahead of other boys in preparing for life.

If your son wants to handle a route, put him in touch with us. One may be available for him in your neighborhood. It will be an unusual opportunity for the self-advancement you want him to have.

Pa. resident working in New Jersey can get tax refund

By MAUREEN RUFE
Pocono Record Reporter

STROUDSBURG — If you're one of those people who is still trying to recuperate financially from that April 15 tax deadline, there may be a surprise refund available.

Monroe County residents who worked in New Jersey last year and paid income tax to that state are eligible for a refund of seven twelfths of their 1972 one per cent earned income (wage) tax.

All residents are eligible to file a rebate for their earned income tax, except for those living in the Pleasant Valley School District.

According to the school's solicitor, Lester Brown, the possible rebate is still under consideration in Chestnut Hill, Eldred, Polk and Ross Townships, the four municipalities that make up the district.

H.A. Berkeimer Associates, tax collectors for all municipalities in the Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg school districts, and for Barrett and Pocono Townships, is allowing the rebate to all its taxpayers.

Rebate procedure

A refund form and proof of payment must be sent to the company and a rebate will be made.

The Jackson Township supervisors agreed to the rebate at their board meeting on May 2. Residents requesting a tax refund in that township should contact Frank Goeck, the township tax collector, for filing procedures.

Donald Mader, tax collector in Paradise Township, said although the rebate situation is not critical there, he will recommend that the supervisors approve the rebate at their next township meeting.

The rebate is being made possible by Act 511, the "tax anything" law in Pennsylvania, which says that payment of any tax on income to any other state by Pennsylvanians should be credited and allowed as a deduction from the liability of the taxpayer for wage tax imposed by any political subdivision.

Since the New Jersey income tax law went into effect in June, residents will still be responsible for the wage tax they paid from January to June. They are, however, entitled to a rebate for the wage tax paid during the other seven months of the year.

No immediate figures were available on how many residents in Monroe County are entitled to rebates, or how much money the four school districts in the county would lose because of Act 511.

A spokesman from Berkeimer Associates said, however, that if only 100 people who made $10,000 a year received rebates, this would mean a loss of $700 to the schools.

Residents complain

Many residents are complaining about the rebate for citizens who work in New Jersey, because they feel the law is unfair to its own citizens who work in Pennsylvania.

The Pennsylvania resident who works in New Jersey, for example, pays the 2.3 per cent New Jersey income tax and is exempted from the 2.3 per cent Pennsylvania income tax and the one per cent earned income tax.

Therefore, the Pennsylvania working in New Jersey pays a full one per cent less than the Pennsylvanian working in Pennsylvania.

Dennis Harris, vice president of Berkeimer Associates, said House Bill 2011 has been introduced into the state legislature to close this loophole, so all Pennsylvania residents will be treated fairly with respect to the earned income tax.

This proposed act says, in effect, that no credit will be allowed against any tax on earned income. The act is expected to be passed in the near future, and will be retroactive to January 1, 1972.

According to Harris, residents who are in doubt about paying wage tax this year, should not hesitate in paying it. He said if, by some slim chance, Bill 2011 would not pass, a rebate would be made again next year to citizens who work in New Jersey.

He indicated this was unlikely, however, and said it would probably be much easier for residents to continue paying their earned income tax quarterly.

When asked why some municipalities have decided not to refund the one per cent wage tax, Harris said some solicitors claim that the New Jersey tax is a transportation tax and not an income tax.

Since Act 511 only allows credit against tax paid on "income to another state," these solicitors claim they don't have to refund any money.

Harris said these men were "putting themselves out on a limb waiting for residents to contest their decision."

Berkeimer Associates, the largest municipal tax collection agency in the state has adopted the position that the appropriate earned income tax should be returned, under advisement from Harrisburg.

'Meals' program may be formed

STROUDSBURG — Elderly persons, shut-ins and persons recuperating from illnesses or operations could benefit greatly from a proposed "Meals on Wheels" program for Monroe County, according to a program supporter.

The project is being spearheaded by the Church Women United, a volunteer group of area women, who thought the project would benefit a number of people in the county unable to prepare their own meals.

Although no definite plans have been formulated, the group is studying similar programs in Easton and Allentown for the most suited program for this locale.

In other areas where the program has already been initiated, meals are usually prepared in an existing institution's kitchen and taken via truck in heat-retaining containers to the homes of those desiring the service.

Hospital would benefit

William Treible, public relations director at the General Hospital of Monroe County, said the program would help both the facility's patients and the administrators.

Concerning patients, Treible said many doctors would probably discharge patients several days earlier than they normally would if they could be assured the people would receive an adequate diet.

The early discharge would also cut down on the patient's hospital bill and possibly would reduce the size of the hospital's future expansion.

Mrs. William Wells, a member of the committee studying the feasibility of the project, said they are "moving ahead with caution," and the hospital will play an integral part in the program.

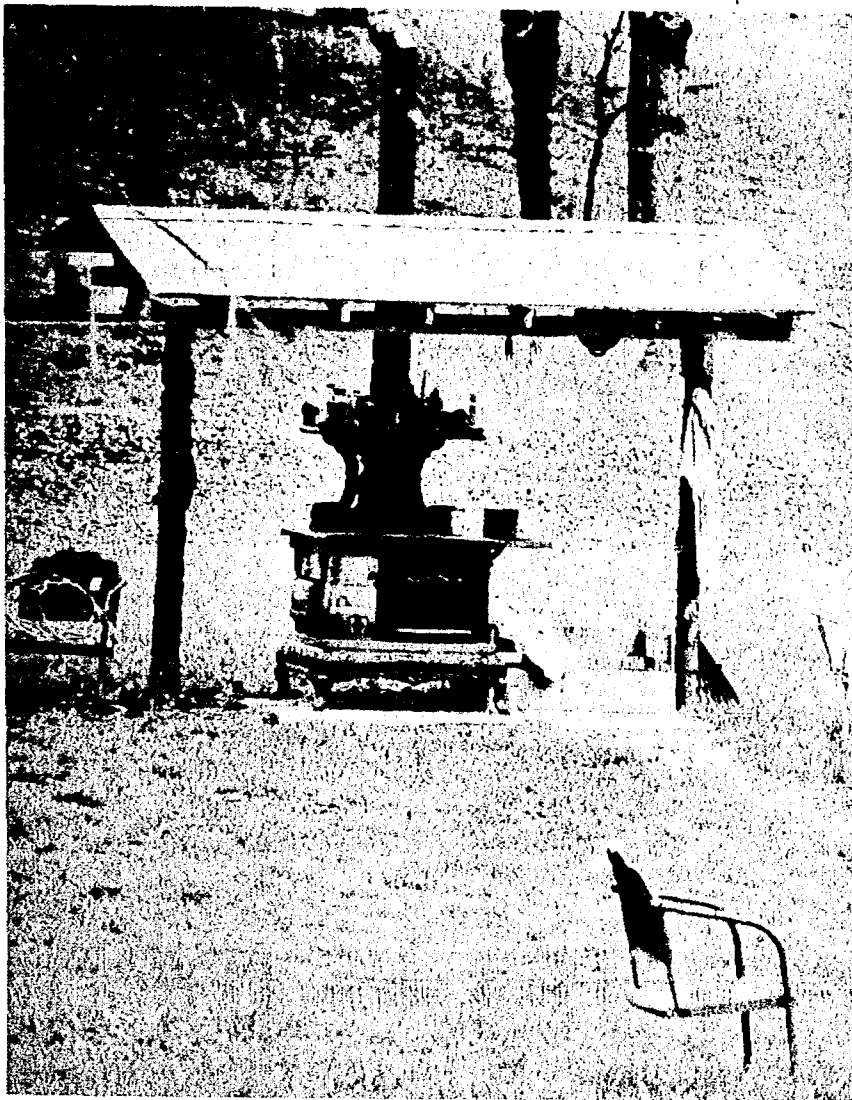

The hospital will either purchase the service or sponsor the program utilizing the hospital's kitchen facilities. The advantage of using the hospital for meal preparation, Mrs. Wells noted, is they can prepare not only regular meals but special diet meals as well.

The financing for the program is presently coming from private individuals although several local social organizations are also involved. The purchase price of the meals will be born by the recipients.

Plans now call for five-day service with one hot meal and one "bagged" meal per day to be delivered at one time. Treible expressed concern for weekends when the service will not be available and a seven-day plan is being considered.

A rough survey of the area by the committee shows about 50 people would benefit from the program but this figure does not include outlying areas.

Although the program is still in the paper stage, the committee intends to continue studying other plans in other areas. No definite date has been set for initiation of the project.

Almost that time

With the weather warming up, it's almost time to break out the charcoal and outdoor grill. No doubt the owner of this delightfully different barbecue in the Minisink Hills area will be using it quite a bit this summer.

Cause of Taylor death withheld

EASTON — No official cause of death has yet been released for Robert S. Taylor, a 43-year-old trapper from East Stroudsburg, R.D. 1, whose body was pulled from the Delaware River near Easton Monday.

Taylor disappeared while trapping on the Delaware River in the Shawnee-on-Delaware area last Thanksgiving Day and was the subject of one of the largest manhunts in Monroe County history.

Taylor's body was found early Monday by a fisherman along the river's bank about three miles north of Easton. An autopsy was performed at the Easton Hospital by Philadelphia Medical Examiner Dr. H. Fillinger under the supervision of Northampton County Coroner Joseph Reickel.

The results of the post mortem are being held in confidence until all official agencies involved complete their respective investigations. However, an informed source said the death was an apparent accidental drowning.

Taylor was a self-employed wood worker and a lifetime resident of Monroe County. His brother-in-law, former county commissioner Stuart Pipher, described Taylor as an excellent woodsman and hunter. He also stated Taylor was a strong swimmer.

Boat spotted

The initial alarm for the East Stroudsburg resident began when his empty boat was spotted adrift on the Delaware River late Thanksgiving Day. The search started when he did not return home later in the evening.

Hampered by drizzling rain and fog, rescue efforts were called off in the early morning hours of the following day but not before his footsteps were followed in the snow along his trap lines on Tocks Island to the south shore. They led to the water's edge and did not return.

One rescue worker said the water in that part of the river was shallow enough for a man to walk across and led some to believe foul play may have been involved. Although the coroner's report has not yet been released it is not thought there were any unnatural circumstances surrounding Taylor's death, according to informed sources.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by the Lantierman Funeral Home, East Stroudsburg, with services at the convenience of the family.

Students repair damages

EAST STROUDSBURG — East Stroudsburg State College students living at the American House Apartments in Stroudsburg spent Thursday painting and cleaning their living quarters. They painted all the inside hall corridors and replaced 35 windows.

The project was begun after students at the off-campus apartment were involved in an incident late Monday evening.

Following a rock concert at the college Monday, several members of the group were invited to the American House to visit a friend who is living there.

The rock group's following, primarily students from other colleges in the area, joined in the late evening escapade. The noise was discontinued when all involved returned to their respective homes at approximately 3:30 a.m.

Associate Dean of Students Lewis A. Judy visited the building Tuesday morning, and American House students cleared the parking lot of an adjacent business under his supervision.

A meeting was called with students in the building and the owners at which time the students agreed to remedy all damages.

The building's owners provided funds from a damage deposit fee charged to students before occupancy. With those funds, materials were purchased, and the project was done Thursday.

American House students noted that, as an act of good will, they assumed full responsibility for the damages although they were not singularly involved. Instead, they placed the blame for the incident on visiting students.

Returns from tax falling far short

EAST STROUDSBURG — Tax money taken from Monroe County by the state and federal government is not being returned to the county in the form of programs, a welfare spokesman said Wednesday.

Dr. Thomas Blair of East Stroudsburg State College said Monroe County is not getting its tax money's worth of state and federal programs — programs paid for by local tax dollars.

"They keep taking our money and we keep turning down the money they want to give us," Blair said. He said the situation in Monroe County is "something of a joke" in the regional offices of the Department of Public Welfare in Scranton.

Blair was instrumental in extending the deadline for application of a program approved by the East Stroudsburg Borough Council creating a juvenile aid unit in the municipality's police force.

The program would allow a $5,000 matching grant from the state to help with the cost of the juvenile officer.

Blair is part of an investigation team established by the Department of Public Welfare to oversee the programing in Monroe County.

Directly responsible to Elliot Knaeur, director of public welfare for region II in Scranton, the panel consists of Blair, Judge James R. Marsh and Attorney Peter O'Brien.

Blair said the panel has been given broad powers by the regional director.

He said the powers extend to the programs being applied for by Monroe County agencies. The panel will act as consultants for new contracts between the department of welfare and local sponsors.

"Our problem is to find out what are the services reaching the people and to get as many quality programs in the county as possible," Blair said.

The panel began operation at the end of March. It will also be looking into existing programs to determine their quality. Blair said any disorders found in existing programs will be reported to the regional office.

He said the department wants a chance to correct disorders before they are brought to the public.

Program dropped

Citing the recent issue of Day Care, Blair said the county officials actually struck down a program that has been mandated for the county by the state.

"Day Care is a mandated program that every county is supposed to have, but we really can't push it down the politicians' throats," Blair said.

The regional office was contacted when the Monroe County Commissioners turned down the program offering $75,000 in outside funds. The definition of a "mandated" program was sought.

According to the regional office, Blair said, a mandated program is one the county should have "when the political climate is right."

Day Care backers say the issue is not dead in Monroe County yet.

Blair said he has received permission to use college students to conduct demographic and attitudinal surveys in Monroe County to determine why government funded programs are being turned down.

He said the surveys will hopefully tell welfare people why citizens do not want the state and federal programs.

Senior citizens fail to take tax benefits

STROUDSBURG — Senior citizens in Monroe County and across the state are not taking advantage of a Pennsylvania law allowing them a rebate on their property tax.

Andrew Marcinek, tax assistance officer at the Monroe County Courthouse, said Friday only about 75 per cent of the eligible senior set in the county have taken advantage of the Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance Act.

His comment followed an announced extension of the claims filing deadline from Secretary of Revenue Robert P. Kane. The last filing date has been moved up to May 29.

Governor Shapp and I are most concerned that there may be a sizeable number of persons in the remote areas of the state who may not yet know of and understand their eligibility for benefits under this program," Kane said.

The law is designed to provide property tax relief for the elderly, widowed and disabled persons who own their own homes and on which they paid real estate taxes in 1971.

Persons eligible

The three major groups eligible for the refunds are persons 65 years old or older; widows 50 years old or older and disabled persons.

If a person is in one of these three categories and their "household income" for 1971 was less than $7,500 he or she is likely to qualify for a refund of a portion of their 1971 real estate taxes.

Legislation introduced in the state House this week would give additional tax relief to 100,000 elderly persons. The bill would extend coverage of the Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance Act.

Under the current law, "household income" takes in all earnings by persons living in the same house, whether they are dependent or not.

The new bill would separate the income of the elderly persons and the income of any sons or daughters who are living with them.

The bill will be referred to committee next week. If passed, the bill would extend the deadline for filing even beyond the May 29 extension. It would add 30 more days.

Kane urged senior citizens to take advantage of the present law. He said only about half of the originally anticipated number of Pennsylvanians had filed for the rebate.

In Monroe County, senior citizens have not been filing for the rebate because of erroneous information about the law according to Marcinek.

He said a rumor circulating in the county led senior citizens to believe a lien would be placed against their property if they filed for the assistance. The tax examiner said there is "no truth" to the rumor whatsoever.

Other eligible taxpayers have complained about the paper work involved in filing for the refund. Marcinek said the examiners at the courthouse would be "too glad to assist the elderly with the paper work."

He said anyone wishing to apply for the rebate need only bring to the courthouse a tax statement from their 1971 real estate taxes and proof of age.

The tax officer said persons with less than $7,500 total income are guaranteed at least a 10 per cent return on their property tax if they are within the eligibility groupings.

If total income is less than the $7,500 the applicant will be eligible for more than a 10 per cent return on their property tax. The amount is determined on a sliding scale.

"Let me, once again, reiterate that there are absolutely no strings whatsoever attached to the acceptance of benefits under the Property Tax Assistance program," Kane said.

Kane said he believed there are literally thousands of potentially eligible citizens who have not yet filed claim for this benefit.

Guardsmen take long trip to train

EAST STROUDSBURG — The bulk of East Stroudsburg's Company "C", 109th Mechanized Infantry, of the Pennsylvania National Guard, left Camp Drum Friday evening on the longest journey ever undertaken by any Pennsylvania National Guard unit for a weekend training assembly.

A 10-man advance group from the East Stroudsburg unit, led by Sgt. Arthur Kroll, left for Camp Drum, N.Y., Thursday morning.

According to Capt. Anthony J. Mangan, company commander, the advance group was to receipt for the buildings at Camp Drum and draw 16 full-track combat vehicles which will be utilized during the weekend training period.

Mangan said the reason for the trip to Camp Drum, which is located about 24 miles from the Canadian border, is that it affords a good training site for the East Stroudsburg unit.

The camp is the home of the New York and New Jersey-based 30th Armor Division. The camp's equipment concentration site has all the armored personnel carriers and self-propelled mortar-carriers that the local company requires for complete training.

Local instructors

The weekend training will be conducted by several local officers and non-commissioned officers, including Sgt. Larry Werkheiser, of Tannersville; Sgt. John Lesoin, of Wooddale, Lt. Horton Place, of Bushkill, and Specialist Four John Marvin, of Stroudsburg.

The citizen-soldiers will begin their training at 6 a.m. today and continue until 6:30 p.m. During the day, the division staff of the 28th Infantry Division will make its annual inspection as it does with all company-sized units once a year.

On Sunday, the training will start at 7 a.m. and conclude at noon.

"At that time," Mangan said, "We will depart the training site and return to East Stroudsburg. We hope to be back by 5 p.m. and have the men dismissed by 5:30 p.m. In all, some 650 men from the First Battalion, 109th Mechanized Infantry, are involved in the operation including Guardsmen from the Scranton, Carbondale and Honesdale armories.

County school districts get total of $9.4 million in aid

Record Harrisburg Bureau
HARRISBURG — A total of $9,407,000 in state and federal funds poured into Monroe County school districts during the past school year, according to a study by the state Department of Education.

The largest chunk involved the state subsidy for basic instruction — $2,112,000. Rental payment covering amortization of financing new school building activities totaled $152,000.

State funds covering school transportation costs for districts in the county took $301,000. Another $207,000 was funneled into the county from state funds for special education programs in the various districts in the county, while $9,000 went into support of vocational education programs.

Federal funds totaling $37,000 covered school lunch programs throughout the county, while another $11,000 in federal funds was used to underwrite the school milk program.

The elementary-secondary education act resulted in $214,000 in federal funds. The national defense education act added another $11,000.

State aid to nonpublic schools amounted to $45,000 during the year.

State funds used for driver education programs totaled $19,000, while library services for districts, a combination of federal and state funds, accounted for an additional $10,000.

Salary and expenses for county supervisory activities resulted in a contribution of $28,000 in state monies during the year.

"The tremendous record of admission achieved by this year's nominees reflects the extremely keen competition which existed among the young men who had applied to me for nominations."

Lakers win in overtime to lead New York by 3-1

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jerry West's two foul shots with 1:15 remaining in overtime broke a 111-111 tie and Gil Goodrich added an insurance basket with 42 seconds left Friday night as the Los Angeles Lakers defeated the New York Knicks, 116-111, to take a commanding 3-1 lead in their NBA title series.

The loss left the Knicks with the almost impossible task of winning three straight games. The Lakers could wind up the series on the West Coast with a victory Sunday night.

Jim McMillan's three baskets in overtime pushed Los Angeles into a 110-106 lead. A West foul shot made it 111-107, and then Bill Bradley hit two outside shots to tie the game at 111-111 with 1:25 to go.

On the patented Los Angeles fast break, West was going up for a layup, but he was fouled and made the two free throws to give the Lakers the lead for good.

The lead changed hands six times in the last four minutes of regulation. A short jumper by West with 11 seconds to go put the Lakers in front, 101-99, but Walt Frazier's tap-in of a Jerry Lucas field goal attempt with three seconds left tied the score and forced the extra session. West had his best game of the series with 28 points and his backcourt partner, Goodrich, netted 27. McMillan tallied 23 points for the Lakers. New York also had a balanced attack as Bradley scored 26 points, Lucas had 25 and Frazier 24.

Wilt Chamberlain, who was held to two points in the first half, finished the game with 12. Chamberlain's four baskets early in the third quarter kept the Lakers in contention after the Knicks had gained a 64-59 lead. The 7-1 Laker center played the entire period with five personal fouls, and was in danger of fouling out of a game for the first time in his long career.

The Knicks received surprising aid from ailing Dave DeBusschere, who scored 13.

Birthday present for Mays could send him to 'home'

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Mets say yes, they still want Willie Mays.

They'll still take him with his microscopic .182 batting average and all.

Prying him away from the San Francisco Giants is something else, though. Mays has been with them all his baseball life, 20 years now, and even though he's near the end of the trail, they still aren't sure they should send him to the Mets.

Willie will be 41 today. Some sentimentalists, the Mets among them, feel it would be a fitting birthday gift if the Giants would permit him to come "home"—meaning New York.

Mays, with only eight hits in 44 times up so far this season, could finish out his career with the Mets then and eventually become a coach for them.

Donald M. Grant, the Mets Board Chairman, says they are "interested" in getting Willie but doesn't know if they can.

"We have always been interested in Willie Mays," says Grant. "But we also realize the love and affection that exists between Horace Stoneham the owner of the Giants and Willie.

Mr. Stoneham is in a wonderful position to deal Willie on to us now. The club isn't drawing and it's down in the standings.

"He can say I've done the greatest favor I can do for Willie. I'm sending him home where he wants to be. I'm sending him to the Mets."

Willie Mays blows out early candles.

Whether he'll do that is something else.

Significantly, perhaps Stoneham is traveling with the club.

The Giants are in Philadelphia for a weekend series, move to Montreal for a mid-week set and arrive in New York next Friday to play the Mets.

Stoneham said he had "a little business to conduct in New York" before leaving for the East Coast with the team.

Mays, contacted at his hotel room in Philadelphia, said he hadn't been in touch with Stoneham yet and that he really wasn't sure if the Giants were serious about dealing him to the Mets.

"I don't know yet. I'm not the owner or the manager," Mays said. "I just heard about it this morning myself. All players are always the last to know. He (Stoneham) hasn't talked to me. I'll probably know more when I get to the ballpark."

Mays' market value is far greater to the Mets than it would be for any other club in baseball. He broke into the majors here in New York with the Giants at the old Polo Grounds as a wide-eyed 20-year-old kid out of Westfield, Ala. and his baseball following in this city has always been second only to the late Babe Ruth's.

Grant says he has been in touch with Stoneham about Mays for "a long, long time."

"We are interested," he says. "We have been constantly interested and when I say constantly I mean from the very beginning of our formation as a major league club."

Joan Payson, the principal owner of the Mets, is a long time admirer of Mays.

Rookie's 9th inning double gives Phillies 3-2 victory

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Rookie Mike Anderson doubled home Don Money with none out in the ninth inning Friday night to give the Philadelphia Phillies a 3-2 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

Money opened the ninth with a single and was running on a 3-2 pitch which Anderson lined to the left field fence to break up a pitching duel between winner Billy Champion and Juan Marichal.

Champion, who is now 3-0 on the year, posted his first career victory over the Giants. Marichal is now 1-4.

The Giants took a 2-0 lead in the first when Champion walked Willie Mays with two out. Bobby Bonds singled then Dave Kingman tripled down the left field line to score both runners.

The Phillies got one back in the fourth against Marichal when Tom Hutton singled and scored on Money's double past third.

Philadelphia tied it in the sixth when Denny Doyle doubled, took third on Champion's sacrifice, and scored when Tim McCarver beat out a single to short.

East Stroudsburg wins in eighth; still one-half game off Bangor

Cavaliers cop 4-1 victory

PEN ARGYL — Steve Martz tied the game with a sixth inning home run and East Stroudsburg scored three runs in the top of the eighth inning Friday to hand Pen Argyl a 4-1 baseball defeat.

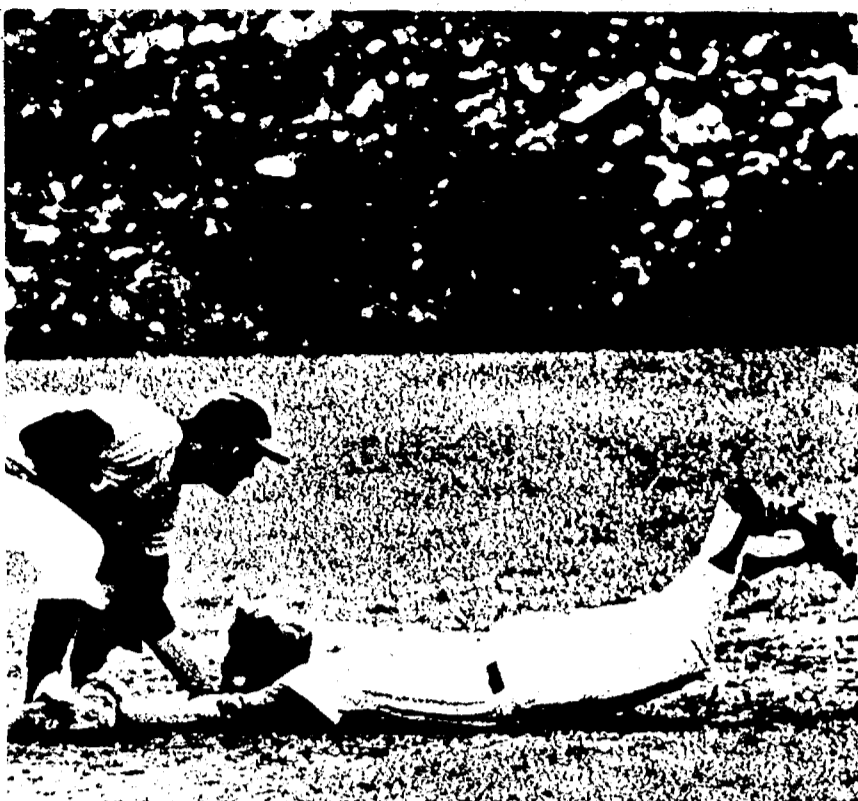

The win kept the Cavaliers one-half game behind Bangor, a 3-0 winner over Jim Thorpe, in the Lehigh-Northampton League's Northern Division.

Pen Argyl, which got only six hits in the game off Bob Beck, took a 1-0 lead in the second inning on singles by Dave Snyder, Mark Bray and Barry Fisher.

Martz' leadoff homer in the sixth tied the score.

The Cavaliers, who have a showdown meeting at East Stroudsburg next Friday, loaded the bases in the top of the eighth on Dan Whittaker's single, Martz' reaching base on an error and Pat Boushell's walk. Gene Dickson then singled to drive in Whittaker and Martz and went to second on the throw attempting to get Boushell at third.

Zoltan Szeredit then got on through and error to load the bases. Dennis Bruch then replaced loser Bob Weber, but walked Kim Walck to drive in the third run of the inning.

Rhys Williams of Pen Argyl is tagged out as he slides into second base Friday by Gene Dickson of East Stroudsburg.

Stroudsburg defeated, 5-4, on single in eighth inning

EMMAUS — Relief pitcher Tim Bray singled in Mike Timmer with no outs in the eighth inning Friday to give Emmaus a 5-4 Lehigh Valley League baseball win over Stroudsburg.

The Hornets opened a 2-0 lead in the first inning, but Rick Silver's double, Lew Silver's sacrifice and Mick Romano's single in the third inning closed it to 2-1.

Slaters cop 3-0 victory

BANGOR — Denny Strunk allowed just a single by Mike Bott Friday as he pitched Bangor to a 3-0 win over Jim Thorpe which kept the Slaters in first place in the Northern Division of the Lehigh-Northampton League.

Strunk walked five men in the game, but struck out 11.

The Slaters, 7-1 in the league, took a 1-0 lead in the second inning when Bill Jackson walked, stole second and third bases and scored on Jim Hartman's single.

Bangor added two more runs in the fourth when Mike Falcone and Jackson got on through errors, both advanced on a passed ball and Falcone scored on Zane Bush's sacrifice fly. Jackson then scored on Hartman's double.

Jack O'Brian's

New York's Voice of Broadway

NEW YORK — Mia Farrow will be paid $100 a week for her London stage debut in Barrie's "Mary Rose." She's terrified... Hear mobfather enurius, it says here, Frank Costello, got a private "The Godfather" screening, and wouldn't you love to hear his review... We called phone-info for the number at 40 Central Park South. The info-imbo riffled some pages and demanded: "What's the name of that building?" We said 40 Central Park South, which it is. Oh, she sniffed as if being wise-guyed, that's a number, not a name. Oh, it's also a name, like the '21' restaurant, the 201 Cafe and other such nominally notable New York points of gustatory interest. Took her five minutes until she saw the figurative light. And for this Ma Bell wants to charge us for dialing information?

The W. Coast Bumbles discotek owners tell folks they're buying the late lamented Colony Restaurant as an E. Coast rockerie. Not so. Not unless they bumble up a guarantee of $250,000, with $100,000 down... Phil Silvers again finds the serendipity of being the Tony Award winner in a Broadway hit show ("Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum"): the Mt. Airy Lodge heliports Phil to and fro on his Mondays off.

Dana Andrews is happier about being a three-time winner as a grandpop next month than he is about the two plays he'll star in in London this summer, "Man for All Seasons" and "Kind Sir"... Sinatraphiles think the no doubt retiring Frank will work the Riviera in Las Vegas. The old Vegas court case against Sinatra would have to be quashed. Authorities there swore he'd legally have to face-thedissonant music if he Gucci-stepped into town... We raved herein about the marvelous witchy piece about Palm Beach High Society whispered by butlers, maids and other backstairs squealers — and mistakenly credited it to Good Housekeeping. We read it right in Town & Country, where it is. Read it there. Great!

The Father Berrigan vs. Conservative Party Chairman Daniel Mahoney on the Dick Cavettcast was a study of the messianically, persuasively illogical Berrigan emerging unscathed because Mahoney simply had neither the forensic skills nor the obvious information to counter the bleeding-ego martyr. At one point Berrigan slashed at Mahoney with "your Catholicism is bankrupt!" which was an instant anti-theological moral judgment — and a sin... How we'd love to've seen Bill Buckley take on the fallaway father... Berrigan went on pilgrimage to Hanoi — but not to South Vietnam; cited Dresden as a tower of martial murder but didn't mention Lidice, nor Coventry; no mention of 3,000,000 Vietnamese Catholics who had to flee to South Vietnam to escape the murdering Viet Cong whose Communistic proclamation — deeds — was to destroy the helpless hordes whose religion alone was deemed enough to execute them... Cavett's counter-queries in such cases follow the same pattern: he tilts always toward the left while voicing a quizzical and candid ignorance; such Cavett queries and summations border on the insulting.

Woolie Donahue's widow, Mary Hartline, will get financial help to fight for a share in Woolie's mother's huge estate (she left all to charity) from ex-chorine Gregg Dodge Moran. The Palm Beach tale wags that Mary helped Gregg when she had similar travail over the late Horace Dodge's and his mater's posthumous money... Phil Abner sings Israeli songs at Al Avram — in Bahamian Calypso beat... Novelty night: Don Rickles not getting an insult in edgewise at the Pen & Pencil as his wife made with the monologue.

Drug payment

Dear Ann: A piece appeared in The Beth El Youth Teen Topics that might be of interest to your readers. No one knows whether it was written by Rabbi M. H. Elowitz of Birmingham, Alabama, or some teen who asked that his identity not be revealed. The authorship is not important, but the message is.

The Man I Wanted To Be, Or Too Bad I Got Busted.

Man, it's a bad scene, a real bummer. Who would've thought it could happen to me? I mean, like it was something cool to do. Just part of the scene. So some kids experiment. So what? Besides, it'll be legal in a few years anyway. Damn the establishment! You'd think the fuzz was born with sirens in their heads and "do-good" stamped on their bottoms. Hell, weren't they ever kids?

It could've been you. You just lucked out. Anyway, getting booked was really gross. All that fingerprinting jazz. I called my old man and was he ever ticked off. He had to hire a lawyer to get me out. He's got influence. I thought I'd get off with a reprimand, maybe grounded for a while and that would be the end of it. It wasn't.

They booked me and I've got a record. I was going to law school but now that's screwed up. Medical school won't accept me either when the time comes. Why should I suffer? Look at all the kids who do dope and never get a glove laid on 'em.

You should have seen my mom's face. Even all that makeup couldn't cover up her shame. You'd think I had committed a crime. It was weird. It's not like I didn't know it was illegal, it's just that everybody's doing it and I was the one who got nailed. Besides, I was holding it for a buddy — only took a couple of drags.

There must be some way to clean up this mess. I'm sure as hell not a criminal. I just got mixed up with a little illegal fun. Funny, somehow I don't think the Dean of Admissions will buy it. Oh well, I can always be a plumber or go into my dad's business. On second thought — I wonder if my dad would hire me.

Origin Uncertain

Dear Friend: Maybe the origin is uncertain, but the message is clear. Thank you for writing.

Get together

By Jean Adams

TWO SIDES: (Q.) My father is good to me but my mother isn't. She blames me for everything, and when my father isn't at home she hits me.

She thinks my older sister does everything right and I do everything wrong.

The other day my sister and I got into a fight. Mother took her side. But Dad had heard it all from the other room. He came in and said I was in the right.

Do you think it is right for my mother to take my sister's side all the time?

Mistreated in Michigan (A.) No. But neither is it right for your father to side with you unless you are clearly in the right.

It seems to me that your family may be spending too much time choosing up sides. Your parents should stand together instead of against each other. So should you and your sister. So should all four of you.

You can get together by having family conferences and seriously talking over the things that divide you.

Suggest to your parents that you start having such conferences. Most families find that about an hour a week spent in talking about problems is a great help. All members of the family should be present. Each should have an opportunity to talk about what is bothering him.

(Want personal answers to your questions? Write to Jean Adams, care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 2402, Houston, Texas 77001. Only letters that include a stamped, self-addressed envelope can be answered.)

The bidding:
South West North East
1♥ 1♠ 3♥ 5♠
6♥ Dble

Opening lead — ace of spades.

From a team of four match comes this deal where, at the first table, the bidding went as shown. In jumping to five spades, East followed the principle that if you decide to pre-empt in a given situation you should at once bid as high as you are willing to eventually go — and let partner do the rest.

Certainly it is hard to fault West for doubling six hearts, even though South made the slam for a score of 1,660 points. He naturally thought that even if his ace of spades was not a trick, South was likely to have the ace of hearts. With both possibilities going up in smoke, West had to pay off to the slam.

At the second table, the bidding went quite differently:

South West North East
1♥ 1♠ 3♥ 3♠
4♥ Pass 4♥ 4♠
5♥ Dble Pass Pass Pass

Here East adopted an entirely different approach by bidding only three spades at his first opportunity. He elected to take his time and crawl into a spade contract by slow and easy steps.

Ultimately he got doubled at five spades and — when North chose the ace of hearts as his opening lead — West had no trouble making the contract, thus adding a further 650 points to his teammates' huge score at the first table.

Declarer ruffed the heart lead in dummy, crossed to the ace of spades, discarded dummy's two diamonds on the K-Q of hearts, and exited with the ten of clubs. South won, but could not prevent West from scoring eleven tricks on a crossruff.

Annual meeting slated

STROUDSBURG — The Penn Northeast Conference of the United Church of Christ covering 14 northeastern counties of Pennsylvania on May 14 to 16 will hold its annual meeting at Pocono Manor Inn near Mt. Pocono.

The conference, which has 192 churches in this section of the state, will bring together 375 delegates.

The opening feature of the program will be a banquet followed by a presentation of the much-discussed "Rock opera" Jesus Christ Superstar. This will be open only to banquet ticket-holders.

The production will be put on by a group of young people from Nazareth in Northampton County, who already have performed it in the past year in churches as distant as Lancaster.

The cast of 30 is made up largely of young members of St. Hogan's UCC, Nazareth, but includes young people from other churches in the borough including the Roman Catholic. Robert Keck, a senior at Nazareth High School first heard the recording and then, from this, adapted the opera to the stage.

He worked out the instrumentation and choral parts and organized for it a "rock" orchestra — trumpets, saxophones, electric guitars, piano and other instruments. Tom Franczak is co-director with Keck.

The opera is given with a minimum of scenery and what is used is symbolic. The young cast dresses in black.

The theme of the three-day conference is "Commitment to Our Christian Faith" with emphasis on evangelism. Three outstanding speakers have been secured to speak Monday and Tuesday on various facets of evangelism.

Youth rally tonight at YFC in E-Burg

EAST STROUDSBURG — Ron Susek, noted youth evangelist and his vocalist wife, Diane, will be the featured guests at a special youth rally to be held at 8 p.m. today in the Youth for Christ Center at 66 South Courtland St., East Stroudsburg.

The rally is being sponsored by the Youth for Christ and Campus Life in the Pocono Mountain Area.

Admission cost is one dollar for adults and 50 cents for students to help defray the rally costs.

Pastors and youth directors in area churches may call the director, Steve Pelechowicz at 421-6401 to reserve seats for youth delegations.

Mrs. Susek will give a con-

'Design' speakers

STROUDSBURG — Speakers list for the "Design for Living" program next week over WVPO is now complete and is as follows:

Monday, May 8 — Rev. William F. Wunder, Grace Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg.

Tuesday, May 9 — Rev. Lawrence Kelm, Our Saviour Lutheran Church, Mt. Pocono.

Wednesday, May 10 — Rev. John Bendik, St. Matthew's Roman Catholic Church, East Stroudsburg.

Thursday, May 11 — Rev. Marshall J. Riu, Jr., Zion United Church of Christ, Stroudsburg.

Friday, May 12 — Steve Pelechowicz, Monroe County Youth for Christ Program Director.

Friends Meeting set for Sunday

STROUDSBURG — Friends Meeting will be held Sunday from 10 to 11 a.m. at the Stroud Community House, Ninth and Main Streets. The Meeting is open to all; coffee and discussion will be offered afterward.

Meetings of the Stroudsburg Friends group are held regularly the first and third Sundays of the month at the same time and place. Anyone wishing more information on the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers) may call 421-4455.

Youth service set for today

WIND GAP — A special youth service will be held at 7 p.m., today in the Interdenominational Church at Clearfield near here.

The students will sing and Rev. David Pickett, youth president, will read the scriptures. Rev. William Haffling will give a slide presentation.

Illustrated BIBLE LESSON

Involved in Human Needs

Scripture — Luke 22:24-27; Hebrews 13:1-3; James 1:27, 2:14-17.

By Alfred J. Suescher

DESIRE for personal glory and prestige is unbecoming a Christian as Christ's own purpose was not to be served but to serve. — Luke 22:24-27.

BROTHERLY LOVE, hospitality and compassion are sacred duties of Christians, directed to all men, not limited to other Christians. — Hebrews 13:1-3.

GOD requires both "good words and good works" — true worship of Him and service to others undefiled by worldly motives. — James 1:27.

NO CHRISTIAN can honestly love God and remain insensitive to the desperate needs of others. — James 2:14-17.

GOLDEN TEXT: Matthew 25:40.

Anniversary week begins July 30

Lutheran Assn. opens 50th year

PARADISE VALLEY — One hundred twenty members and friends of the Paradise Falls Lutheran Assn. gathered Saturday evening at Crescent Lodge in Paradise Valley to open the 50th year of the organization.

The occasion was the annual spring dinner of this group which began in 1922 when A. Raymond Raff, a Lutheran layman from Philadelphia, donated 23 acres of Pocono farmland as a gesture of thanks upon recovery of his health. Since then the association has grown to 437 acres with 86 homes.

Originally, Paradise Falls Lutheran Association was a summer colony, as well as operating boarding and rooming arrangements for transient vacationers. At the present time eight homes are winterized and occupied year round with the other homes used only in the summertime.

An anniversary banner designed and made by Mrs. Carolyn Pohl, Levittown, Pa., Mrs. Virginia Warburton,

Levittown, Pa., Mrs. Barbara Sneer, Conshohocken and Mrs. Anna Mary Ammon, Hatboro, was used for the first time at

Moravian activities announced

CANADENSIS — Activities for the week at the Moravian Church of Canadensis have been announced:

Sunday — Sunday School at 9:30 a.m., followed by morning worship at 10:45 a.m., with litany and sermon, "The Conscience That Gives Courage."

Tuesday — Joint board meeting at 8 p.m. followed by Board of Elders meeting and board of trustees meeting.

Wednesday — Women's workshop from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.; Junior Choir rehearsal at 4 p.m.; prayer meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the sanctuary and study of the Book of Revelation.

the dinner. An original poem written by John Hoessel, Jr., "Paradise Falls of Beauty," printed on parchment was given to each cottage owner present.

Plans for the 50th anniversary week were outlined by the Rev. George B. Ammon, Hatboro, Pa. and Mrs. Ruth Schaffner, Paradise Falls, co-chairmen of the anniversary committee.

Anniversary Week will be held on the grounds of the association — 10 miles north of Stroudsburg on Route 191 — beginning on Sunday, July 30th. Dr. William Lazareth, dean of the Philadelphia Seminary at Mt. Airy, will be the speaker. A vesper and coffee hour will also be held that day.

Open house will be observed by many of the cottagers on Monday and Thursday.

Jacob Kintz of East Stroudsburg will speak on the folklore of this area on Monday evening. The Women's Auxiliary will hold an anniversary breakfast on Tuesday.

A reunion and picnic will be held all day Wednesday. It is expected that many old timers will be present.

On Thursday an anniversary masquerade will be held.

Friday will be youth day with activities planned by Paradise Falls Young people. On Saturday, the Women's Auxiliary will hold a Lawn Fete. In the evening old time Paradise Falls movies and slides will be shown.

Also scheduled during the week will be the planting of an anniversary tree, tennis and shuffleboard tournaments and a band concert.

An anniversary book, "The Story of Paradise Falls Lutheran Association 1922-1972" has just been printed and was distributed at the dinner. Thirty four writers contributed recollections, anecdotes, poetry and history, as well as prospects for the future. Personal testimonies of what Paradise Falls has meant to them and their families are included, as well as excerpts from Thomas H. Knepp's book, "The Poconos."

One article tells of the flowers, ferns and trees of Paradise Falls. One hundred twenty five pictures were used, including personalities and events of the past, as well as present cottagers. The book was printed by Sun Litho Co. of East Stroudsburg and supervised by a book and history committee: Rev. George B. Ammon, Mrs. Ruth Schaffner, Miss Ruth Haase, Miss Anne Schuler and Rev. Bela Shetlock.

Catholic society meets Sunday

BRODHEADSVILLE — The men's Holy Name Society will meet at 8 p.m. Sunday, May 14 in Our Lady Queen of Peace Catholic Church, Brodheadsville.

All those wishing to attend are invited. There will be refreshments after the meeting.

"Your Good Morning Newspaper"

But rising popularity, an expanding library and growing stature in history are reminders of the Trumans. There is no pomp or pageantry about the guards at the tasteful iron fence surrounding the property and traffic passes by unharriedly. There are no signs to identify the house as anything different from the others around it. The paper boy rides by and heaves the local paper into the bushes just as he does for everyone else on the route.
